USE OF POLICE . . . to break up sit-in protested by students.

13 Demonstration Leaders Expelled From Wisconsin U

Madison, Wis. (AP) — University of Wisconsin officials backed up a new get tough policy against unruly protesters Thursday, expelling 13 leaders of Wednesday's bloody anti-war demonstration.

Hundreds of angry students began an immediate boycott of classes and set up chanting picket lines outside buildings on the 33,000-student campus.

Chancellor William H. Sewell planned to meet with faculty members regarding the future of on-campus job recruiting by Dow Chemical Co., maker of napalm for the war in Vietnam.

Halt Ordered

Refusals of protesters to clear jammed corridors inside a building where Dow held its interviews triggered skull-thumping skirmishes between police and demonstrators Wednesday.

About 65 protesters and three policemen were treated for injuries, none of them believed serious, after helmeted police used riot sticks and tear gas to disperse jeering students who shouted slogans denouncing police, the war and President Johnson.

Sewell, who became chancellor this past summer, had vowed there would be no repeat of last February's anti-Dow demonstrations which led to 19 arrests.

Regrets Necessity

"I deeply regret that it was necessary to bring police to the campus," said Sewell. "This was done only after our officers and staff found it impossible to maintain law and order."

Names of the expelled students were not immediately released. All have the right of appeal.

Sewell's speedy action against protest leaders came on the heels of sharp criticism by the state Legislature of campus disorders.

Kenneth Greenquist of Racine, president of the university's board of regents, issued a statement affirming the board's "complete confidence in President Fred Harrington and Chancellor Sewell to cope with the present crisis."

50 YEARS OF BOLSHEVISM . . .

Feats In Space Soviet Triumph

© New York Times Service

By JOHN NOBLE WILFORD

Just 10 years ago this month, on Oct. 4, 1957, the Soviet Union thrust man into the space age.

From a launching site in the deserts of Kazakhstan rose the earth's first artificial moon, Sputnik. The beep-beep-beep of its tiny radio carried an awesome message that is still echoing.

Man for the first time overcame the gravity that held him prisoner to his native planet. Science fiction became fact. Now we could contemplate flights to the moon, expeditions to neighboring planets, scientific stations in the sky.

Sputnik came in the 40th year of the communist state, which had its origin in backward Russia on Nov. 7, 1917. Ten years later, on the 50th anniversary of the coup d'etat by which Vladimir Lenin and his Bolsheviks seized power in Petrograd, Sputnik and the ensuing Soviet space triumphs stood supreme among the achievements of the Moscow regime and high among those of the recorded history of mankind.

Sputnik sent a thrill through the world. The Russians were jubilant.

To the west, Sputnik came as a jolt. The west had underestimated Soviet technology. Ten years later the United States still struggled to overcome the Soviet space lead.

The Russians set the initial pace and fixed the major directions for the first decade of the space age. The first Sputnik was followed by others, larger and more complex. Then, on April 12, 1961, a young Soviet pilot named Yuri A. Gagarin became the first man to fly beyond earth's atmosphere.

Fifth Of A Series

Other impressive "firsts" in space:

—First satellite to carry an animal, Sputnik 2.

—First photographs of the hidden side of the moon, Luna 3.

—First and only woman in space, Valentina Tereshkova.

—First three-man satellite, Voskhod 1.

—First "walk" in space, Aleksei Leonov on Voskhod 2.

—First to soft-land on the moon, Luna 9.

No longer does the Soviet Union dominate space. The U.S. rushed to orbit its own spacecraft in January, 1958. With the manner Gemini ren-

Soviets Rap NY Times

© New York Times Service

Moscow — The New York Times was accused here Thursday of "malicious concoctions, lies and slander" in its series of articles analyzing Soviet society on the eve of the 50th anniversary of the Bolshevik Revolution.

The accusation was made by Pravda, newspaper of the Soviet Communist Party. The article, printed under the headline "Fumes from Across the Ocean," was signed by Vasily Vasin, thought to be a pseudonym.

Pravda directed most of its wrath against Harrison E. Salibury, an assistant managing editor of the New York Times. Salisbury, coordinated the preparation of the series of articles with an analysis written by him of the achievements and failures of the Soviet Communist Party's 50 years in power. Pravda called Salisbury "the first violinist and director of an orchestra of Sovietologists" and described the series as "most strange."

Salisbury visited Moscow last February for discussions with officials of the Novosti Press Agency to obtain their cooperation in arranging visits and interviews.

Although most of the meetings with Soviet citizens were organized by Novosti, the Pravda writer alleged that Salisbury had based his articles and interpretations on "imaginary interviews."

JURY TRIES AGAIN

Judge Cox Told 12 Deadlocked

. . . IN RIGHTS PLOT TRIAL

Meridian, Miss. (AP)—An all-white jury told U.S. District Judge Harold Cox at mid-afternoon Thursday it was deadlocked in the case of 18 men charged with conspiracy in the 1964 deaths of three civil rights figures.

The judge ordered them to re-examine and reconsider all the evidence and "take all the time you feel is necessary."

The seven men and five women on the panel began considering the case Wednesday afternoon. They had deliberated nine hours and 40 minutes when it returned to the courtroom.

After being told to go back to the jury room for more considerations, the jury stayed with it until about 8:30 p.m. with an hour's break for dinner. Then a U.S. marshal announced that the jury would be put to bed with orders to return at 9 a.m.

New Charge

Cox issued a new charge to the panel, basically telling the jurors to consider the majority in their deliberations, but yet not to yield any of their convictions.

The jury filed back into the courtroom on the third floor of the Meridian Post Office at 3:22 p.m. CDT.

"I assume you have been unable to reach a verdict. Is that correct?" asked Cox.

"That's correct," replied Langdon Smith Anderson, 52, of Lumberton, Miss., the jury foreman. Anderson is a member of the state's Agricultural and Industrial Board.

"This is an important case," Cox said. "This trial has been extensive and expensive both to the prosecution and the defense . . . there's no reason to believe that another trial might not be equally expensive."

The jury is considering whether there was a conspiracy to violate the civil rights of three men who were shot to death during the racially tense summer of 1964 and found buried beneath a clay dam 44 days later.

After the jury resumed deliberations, defense attorney Mike Watkins took exception to the judge's new charge. Watkins said his clients disagreed with the judge's remarks about the cost of the trial, a partial verdict and a change of decision by the jurors.

'Not Involved'

"Cost time or expense is not involved in justice," Watkins said.

Justice Department attorneys claimed during the eight days of testimony that the 18 defendants, all white men, took part in a "calculated, cold-blooded" Ku Klux Klan plot to carry out the "midnight murders" of the three young men—two whites and a Negro.

Slain

The slain men were Michael Schwerner, 24, and Andrew Goodman, 20, both white New Yorkers, and James Chaney, 22, a Meridian Negro.

No state charges were ever brought in the case.

The trial brought intensive FBI investigation spanning three years to a climax. Asst. U.S. Atty. Gen. John Doar, the government's top civil rights troubleshooter, personally prosecuted the case.

CLARK SAYS . . .

Status Of Education Increasing

By DEAN TERRILL
Southeast Nebraska Bureau

Crete — A distinguished American jurist suggested Thursday that education is being elevated to a status comparable to that of the state and church.

Former Supreme Court Justice Tom C. Clark made the observation at a Doane College consultation on the subject of church and state. His appearance was sponsored by the Supreme Council, Scottish Rite Masons.

"Education is going to become the third member of a triumvirate," said the native Texan, "and the triumvirate of state, church and education is going to run the world eventually."

Closed Session

Retired after service as U.S. attorney general as well as an associate justice, Clark was expected to further explore church-state issues at a discussion closed to the press. On hand for the session were approximately 30 prominent churchmen, statesmen and educators.

Acknowledging that individuals should have the right to express opinions on any issue, the speaker qualified this to the extent that "there are limits on such things." He intimated that a "growing disrespect for law" stems in part from family laxity and from television violence.

"Our system is based upon adherance to law, he continued. "But . . we should watch carefully for the integrity of our system."

Privacy Important

Fielding a student's question on the Supreme Court's decision against "conversation bugging," Clark replied that "one of our most important rights is privacy." The decision technically did not relate to wire-tappinng, he pointed out, holding in essence that lawmen should have probable cause before secretly recording a conversation.

An active Presbyterian layman, Clark repeatedly referred to religious progress which should result from intercontinental satellite communication. He also stressed the importance of small colleges such as Doane, labeling them "the backbone of education."

An evening address before the Nebraska Bar Association in Omaha also highlighted the Justice's visit to the state.

Born in Dallas, the 68-year-old Clark is a graduate of the University of Texas and is a recipient of honorary degrees from 19 colleges and universities. He recently stepped down from the high court post after his son, Ramsey, was named U.S. Attorney General.

Prairie Fire Under Control

Alliance (UPI)—Personnel from seven fire departments, three airplanes and numerous volunteers Thursday evening brought under control a fire which blackened 17,500 acres of grassland and meadows and destroyed 5,000 tons of hay 15 miles south of here.

The State Safety Patrol said the flames, which raced across an eight-mile front for more than seven hours, were brought under control at 7:45 p.m.

There were no injuries or damage to buildings, but fire came within 100 yards of the Hall Cattle Company Ranch south of here.

Mrs. Don Hall, wife of the ranch owner, said the fire started near railroad tracks along U.S. 385 north of Angora.

County Assessors Reject Proposed Personal Property Tax Schedules

. . . TO POLL SOLONS ON INTENT OF '67 LAW

By GERRY SWITZER
Star Staff Writer

Omaha—Miscellaneous personal property items will apparently appear on 1968 personal property schedules, but the form of the schedule remained undetermined Thursday at the Nebraska County Assessors Association meeting.

With a vote of 90-3 the assessors rejected the schedule proposed by the state tax commissioner's office and voted to recommend continued using of last year's form.

With the exception of very minor changes, it was the first time in many years the assessors had been presented a revised form.

Combined

The state's proposed schedule for 1968 would combine the miscellaneous personal property items for individuals with the business schedule and include a separate supplement schedule for the farm and ranch property.

The schedule used for the last several years included one form for farm and individual personal property and a separate business schedule.

Although the assessors' recommendation was negative toward the new schedule, association president Lloyd Jones of Beatrice noted that the responsibility for the schedule lies with the tax commissioner's office.

Want Poll

The assessors unanimously voted to poll each state senator to determine the intent of the 1967 Legislature when it passed LB59 exempting from taxation household goods and personal effects.

The possibility loomed Thursday of getting a revised opinion from the state attorney general, whose earlier opinion reversed the thinking of most assessors that it would not be necessary to distribute personal property forms to individuals on the basis of 1967 legislative action exempting all household goods and personal effects.

Adams County Assessor Roscoe Story of Hastings told the assessors that the attorney general's office might review its opinion if "we can get a majority opinion from the senators that it was their intent to abolish all these items."

Opinion

An opinion handed down by the attorney general, requested by the state tax commissioner, stated items which are not worn nor carried about the person of the owner and goods and items not having a more or less intimate relation to the owner are taxable and do not fall in either the category of household goods or personal effects.

State Sen. George Gerdes of Alliance told the assessors in an opening session Wednesday that he personally thought the bill would exempt all items except cars, boats and other vehicles which are licensed.

It was also reported that Sen. Jules Burbach of Crofton had stated he felt the intent of the Legislature was to remove all personal property items from the tax rolls except licensed items.

Review Urged

Prior to the action taken by the assessors regarding polling legislators, a resolution was presented by the Panhandle Assessors Association recommending review of the opinion of the attorney general regarding LB59.

The Panhandle group stated that the intent of the Legislature in approving LB59 was to exempt all miscellaneous personal property not used for profit and that the revenue realized from this source does not justify the expense to the county of assessing such property.

The items in question are those listed under miscellaneous personal property and include: sporting equipment; camera equipment, guns and hobby equipment; lawn equipment; hand and power tools; typewriters and adding machines; fuel, propane tanks; two-way radios; dogs; fur-bearing animals; bees; turkeys; chickens, ducks and geese.

The closing session Friday will include final committee reports and will be climaxed with the election of new association officers.

Protection Approved

Washington (AP) — A bill designed to protect witnesses and informers who supply information to federal investigators was passed by the House by a 275-47 vote.

Peterson Is Elected President Of NREA

Harold L. Peterson of Omaha was named Thursday as president of the Nebraska Real Estate Association (NREA), succeeding Leo B. Ringer of Norfolk.

Other new officers include: vice presidents Frank Harrington of Lincoln, Ladd V. Tesar of Omaha, E. H. Weerts of Columbus, Sam Huston of Grand Isalnd and Leo Winterer of Scottsbluff. David G. Mitten of Fremont was elected treasurer.

Elected to three-year terms on the board of directors were W. Perry Rankin of Hastings, Charles A. Rasmussen of Omaha, Arlen E. Stinger of So. Sioux City, Jeff H. Nitzel Jr. of Grand Island and Rose Mary McCain of Scottsbluff.

—study and improve housing conditions in their community.

The resolution further asserts the "right of equal opportunity of any person to acquire a parcel of real estate property, and the right of any property owner to determine the disposition of his property."

A statement issued jointly by Ringer and William Swanson, chairman of the resolutions committee, said "As realtors it is our obligation to work with our fellow citizens in every Nebraska community to seek the best solutions to housing problems for all people."

The statement said realtors are by law required to honor requests of the person employing them to sell his property, but as citizens of their community, "realtors can and should exert considerable influence in seeking solutions to housing problems."

Columbus Man Killed In Crash

Columbus (AP) — A car-truck collision at an intersection in Columbus Thursday evening claimed the life of Max Scherrer, 84, of Columbus.

His wife, Lillian, 83, who was riding with him in a car, was injured and reported in satisfactory condition in a Columbus hospital.

Platte County Sheriff John Evans identified the driver of the truck as James L. Stewart, 33, of Wisner.

B52s Hack At Red Positions

Saigon (AP) — U.S. B52 bombers blasted Thursday at Communist positions in two sectors of South Vietnam 400 miles apart. Allied troops pursued 54 operations across the country. Ground contacts were reported light.

The Viet Cong's 271st Regiment, which engaged elements of the U.S. 1st Infantry Division in a bloody battle Tuesday in jungles 40 miles northwest of Saigon, appeared to have eluded pursuit.

In one strike, the eight-engine B52, each of which can pack 30 tons of bombs, loosed lethal loads on the regiment's foliage-screened base camps, mortar positions and storage areas.

Infantrymen who swept the area later reported they found ruins of the installations, but sighted none of the enemy. The battle Tuesday was the sharpest in the Saigon area in weeks. The U.S. command said 58 Americans and 103 of the enemy were killed.

The second B52 strike was made at Red bivouac and staging areas three miles southwest of the Marine outpost at Con Thien, just below the demilitarized zone.

Enemy batteries had lobbed 85 shells at Leatherneck positions below the DMZ Wednesday. Marines have lately been digging deeper and sandbagging more, however, and spokesmen said only one was wounded.

Election Guards

Assignments to election guard duty fell to some American as well as South Vietnamese soliders. They are deploying to protect polling places for the voting Sunday which will set up a 137-member house of representatives.

Though Viet Cong leaflets are calling again for sabotage and killings, the campaign so far has been marked by little of the terrorism such as claimed the lives of more than 200 civilians in the week prior to the presidential and senate elections Sept. 3.

Red agents seem to be having about as much trouble working up enthusiasm among their goon squads as the government has in rousing interest of the voters in this final step in South Vietnam's establishment of a new political structure.

Among about 1,150 candidates for the house, one has been killed. And the toll throughout the country last week was below average.

U.S. Combat Deaths Near 14,000 Mark

Saigon (AP) — American combat deaths in the Vietnam war approached the 14,000 mark.

The U.S. command announced Thursday that 171 Americans were killed, 977 wounded and two missing or captured last week, which it described as a period of increased activity across the country except in the Mekong Delta.

This was a rise from losses of Oct. 1-7, when 102 American were killed, 890 wounded and 26 missing.

Combat deaths among the other allies and the enemy declined.

South Vietnamese military headquarters reported 163 men killed, 465 wounded and 35 missing and the other allies seven killed and 20 wounded.

U.S. spokesmen said 1,260 of the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese were killed, compared with a readjusted total of 1,381 for the previous week.

The roll of American casualties in the war since Jan. 1, 1961, rose in unofficial tabulations to 13,907 killed, 88,502 wounded and 784 missing or captured.

In addition, deaths from nonhostile causes such as illness and accidents totaled 2,785. There were 51 such deaths last week.

Paratroop Vanguard Flies To Capital

... MOVE MADE TO PROTECT PENTAGON SATURDAY

Washington (AP) — The vanguard of an Army paratroop force that could reach 6,000 men flew to Washington Thursday as the Defense Department moved to protect the Pentagon against a massive antiwar demonstration planned for Saturday.

Sponsors hope to rally as many as 100,000 demonstrators for a march from the Lincoln Memorial to the huge department headquarters across the Potomac River.

The paratroopers would be charged with the security of the Pentagon while some 4,000 policemen and national guardsmen will be available to maintain order elsewhere.

Two C130 transport planes flew an estimated 120 men of the 82nd Airborne Division from Ft. Bragg, N.C., to Andrews Air Force Base in Maryland around midday.

A few hours later five C130s brought in an estimated 300 military policemen from Ft. Hood, Tex.

The Defense Department refused to acknowledge that the paratroopers are being brought in because of the demonstration nor would they say what the force might total ultimately.

But an Air Force officer involved in the airlift from Ft. Bragg said that as many as 100 C130 flights can be made if necessary — and at 60 men to the plane that would mean a potential force of 6,000 of the highly trained troopers.

The 82nd Airborne provided units for controlling racial riots in Detroit last summer and it includes in its ranks many veterans of the Vietnam war at which the demonstration is aimed.

U.S. Mariner's Findings Generally Back Soviets'

Pasadena, Calif. (AP)—Mariner 5 flew within 2,500 miles of Venus Thursday and U.S. scientists said its electronic instruments generally confirmed findings radioed from a Russian capsule that soft-landed on the planet's surface the day before.

Flight controllers at Jet Propulsion Laboratories said Mariner 5's instruments "performed flawlessly" during the 19,000-mile-an-hour fly-by.

At a news conference a few hours later, Dr. Conway Snyder, project scientist, said first data from the spacecraft generally agreed with Russian reports of a very dense atmosphere.

He said it would be several days — possibly Monday—before U.S. scientists could confirm or challenge Soviet statements that the atmospheric pressure was 15 times that on Earth. "We just haven't had time to analyze enough data yet," he said.

Snyder said Mariner 5 detected some indication of a magnetic field in the vicinity of the planet, but he was not sure whether the field was related to the planet or to the sun.

The 2,400-pound Soviet Venus 4 parachuted an instrumented package to the planet's surface Wednesday. Russian scientists said it found conditions hostile to known forms of life: an atmosphere composed almost entirely of lethal carbon dioxide and a metal-smelitng surface temperature of 536 degrees Fahrenheit.

Three-Ring Circus Sparks Concordia's Homecoming

By JOHN LEE
Outstate Nebraska Bureau

But the pendulum has swung to the opposite extreme.

'Dress-Up Day'

To kick it off, Thursday was proclaimed "dress-up day"—and students couldn't even recognize their classmates.

Wild animal trainers roamed the campus, whipping lions into submission.

The moustached stilt man outstrided a Chinese clown, and balloon vendors plied their trade through the ivied halls.

No, it isn't dull anymore.

"We tried something like this last year, and it really caught on. It generated a lot of spirit," noted homecoming committeewoman Judy Else.

"The Greatest Show on Earth" will swing into its festive best Friday afternoon, when the pair of big tops will be opened with their campus club-constructed game booths.

To be spotlighted in the center ring at 8 p.m. Friday, are Missourians Nancy Ehlman of St. Charles and Lynette Toensing of St. Louis and Karen Kruse of Inglewood, Calif., vying for the homecoming queen title.

STAR STAFF PHOTO

Her escort, Mr. Football, will be selected from Harlan Teske of Onaga, Kan., Rod Voelker of Palmer, Kan., and Sewardite Jim Young.

They will ride the royal float from the campus to the city square during a 10 a.m. parade Saturday. The four college classes will compete for honors with their floats, separated in the entourage by four bands.

Prof. Carl Brandhorst of the biology department, a 50-year graduate of Concordia, is being honored as parade marshal.

The highlight football game at 2 p.m. Saturday brings in Northwestern College of Orange City, Iowa, to contest the Bulldogs.

An evening "circus menu" buffet and a program with hypnotist Edwin L. Baron of Chicago and special awards presentations to two distinguished alumni completes Saturday's program.

"We wanted to put on something special in connection with the Nebraska Centennial," explained Judy.

"The circus theme was settled upon as a big entertainment attraction of early years."

"And besides, its three rings of fun and color that everyone can enjoy."

Rail Traffic Resumes With Bypass Spur

Juniata (AP)—Traffic was resumed early Thursday on the Burlington Railroad's main line two miles west of here.

Work on a 750-foot bypass spur was completed about 3:30 a.m. to allow trains to go around a 41-car derailment which occurred early Wednesday.

The 41 cars were in a 97-car eastbound freight which jammed up in a cut. Cause of the derailment was not immediately determined.

Crews began clearing the main line Thursday. Railroad officials said it would take at least a week to clear the wreckage.

No injuries were reported in the pileup.

County Attorneys Select Johnson

He succeeds Douglas County Attorney Donald L. Knowles.

Other officers named are: Lancaster County Chief Deputy William Blue, vice president; Saunders County Attorney Robert Sullivan, secretary, and Platte County Attorney Robert Shell, treasurer.

GI Among All America City Finalists

Grand Island (AP)—Grand Island community leaders will present the city's case Nov. 13 and 14 in Milwaukee in its efforts to be proclaimed an All America City.

The evidence supporting the city's contention it should receive the title, one of 11 to be given throughout the nation, will be laid out before the All America Cities jury meeting in conjunction with the annual National Conference on Government.

Grand Island is one of 22 cities seeking the recognition. The 22 were chosen as finalists from a field of 116.

Grand Island's entry was made on Oct. 7 by Chamber of Commerce President Jack Martin.

Expansion Cited

Among other things Martin cited the city's economic and industrial expansion since 1960; its return to the city manager form of government in 1964, improvements in the city's schools, the opening of the Golden Age Village as housing for the elderly, expansion of off-street parking, the construction of the Stuhr Museum of Prairie Pioneer, a new postoffice, opening of Goodwill Industries, establishment of a Humane Society and opening of the Planned Youth Center.

The All America Cities competition is sponsored by the National Municipal League and Look Magazine.

Shelburn Draws 10-Year Sentence In Wolfe Slaying

Papillion (AP) — Gary Shelburn, 19, of Omaha was sentenced to 10 years for manslaughter Thursday by Sarpy County District Judge Victor H. Schmidt.

Nebraska News

Shelburn had been charged with first degree murder and being an accessory in the April 22 slaying of Gene Wolfe, who was fatally shot while working at a filling station south of Omaha on U.S. Highway 73-75.

Earlier Judge Schmidt overruled a motion to suppress evidence against Shelburn. His court-appointed attorney Dale Kirby of Papillion had argued that Shelburn's confession was not voluntary and that he had not been advised of his rights.

Assigned School Bus Seats Urged As Safety Measure

Waterloo (UPI) — Capt. Robert John Emery of the State Safety Patrol recommended here that all children be assigned seats on school buses and there be no standing in the aisles.

He spoke at a meeting on school bus safety held here in the aftermath of a Oct. 2 train-school bus crash near here which claimed four lives and injured nine.

"I would also like to see some teeth in the law which requires mechanical failures to be repaired," Emery said. "I would like to see that parents of school children demand that repairs be made."

He said he would like to see a law providing two bus drivers for every bus, with the second driver getting off at every railroad crossing to check for trains.

State Sen. Henry Pedersen Jr. told the group he would ask the State Railway Commission to check all railroad crossings in the state to determine which ones are hazardous.

Inducted As 'Fellow'

Omaha (UPI)—Dr. Arthur Palrang, son of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice "Skip" Palrang of Omaha, now a surgeon at Caldwell, Ida., was inducted as a fellow of the American College of Surgeons at the annual clinical congress of that organization held in Chicago.

Dollar Volume Of Business Rises

The trend of rising prices is reflected in the Nebraska Business Summary for July, 1967, which noted a one per cent increase in the dollar volume of business, while the physical volume decreased by four-tenths of a per cent.

The summary is published monthly by the Bureau of Business Research, an agency of the University of Nebraska College of Business Administration.

While Nebraska was reflecting only a one per cent increase, the dollar volume of business went up 6.9 per cent over the nation and the physical volume was up 3.7 per cent.

August retail sales for the state show a 2.9 per cent increase over August of 1966. However, the "after-tax-buying" patterns established in June remained relatively unchanged with the sales increases being generally in soft goods categories, with declines in hard goods which often are larger, more expensive items.

Seventeen of 22 reporting cities reported increases in general business for the period July, 1966, to July, 1967. The state index increased 6.2 per cent over the period.

Twenty of the 22 cities had increases in general business in August over the previous year, the state-wide index was up 4.8 per cent. Hastings led the increases with 17.8 per cent.

The report on retail sales, adjusted for seasonal change:

Alice Weeth, 84, Longtime Gretna Teacher, Is Dead

Papillion—Funeral services were held here Thursday for Alice Weeth, 84, of Gretna, who taught for 59 years in Sarpy County.

A lifetime resident of Gretna, she retired in 1962 from the Gretna public school where she taught for 42 years. She was made an honorary member of the Nebraska Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Also a member of the Farm Bureau, Miss Weeth was a former Sarpy County Democratic Committeewoman.

Surviving are a brother, Fred of Valentine, and sisters, Mrs. Maude Hardin of Gretna and Mrs. Theresa Starks of Fairmont.

4-H Development Group To Confer

The ninth annual meeting of the Nebraska Association for 4-H Development will be held Nov. 18 at the Nebraska Center for Continuing Education, according to W. M. Antes, association secretary-treasurer.

The business agenda will include an annual financial report, progress report on activities and construction at the State 4-H Camp near Halsey, and election of three members to the Association's Executive Council.

Members whose terms expire this year are Mrs. Louis Jeppesen, Hubbard; Val Peterson, Hastings; and Robert Voss of Fremont. Association officers will be elected at a meeting of the Executive Council, following a noon luncheon, Antes said.

Emil Bartels, 74, Killed By Train

Pawnee City (AP)—Emil Bartels, 74, of Pawnee City, was killed Wednesday when the pickup truck he was driving was hit by a Burlington train five miles west and a mile north of here.

The State Safety Patrol said the engineer of the train was B.M. Stalldorf of Wymore.

Summary Of Conditions

A low pressure cell is over extreme northwestern Nebraska and a warm front extends southward to just west of Omaha. Relatively dry air and high pressure are pushing eastward behind this frontal system.

Friday the skies will be clear to partly cloudy with moderate to strong northwest winds and cooler. Friday night skies will be clear to partly cloudy and a little cooler. Mostly fair and warmer over the area on Saturday.

Extended Forecasts

NEBRASKA: Temperatures for the five-day period, Saturday through Wednesday, will average near normal in the central and northeast to slightly below normal in the southeast. Normal highs are 61 to 65 and normal lows are 34 to 39. Temperatures will begin above normal, with cooling about mid-period and then warming. Little, if any, precipitation is indicated.

KANSAS: For the five-day period, Saturday through Wednesday, temperatures will average two to five degrees below normal except for the northwest where they will be near normal. Normal highs are 64 to 68 and normal lows are low 30s in the northwest to middle 40s in the southeast. Minor day to day changes are indicated. No precipitation of consequence is expected in the period.

(Even if you cover the rest of the label.)

One of Kentucky's most famous characters is the Sunny Brook Guardian. Way back in 1891, he introduced new high standards for making Bourbon. Insisted on using costlier small grains. A very special yeast strain. And then aging in hand-made barrels. He's never changed. And neither has our quality. It's the most carefully guarded taste in Bourbon.

EVENTS
IN PERSPECTIVE

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

Sometimes the law is just plain nuts and that's what makes unhappy and skeptical citizens. When the law requires that you do away with common sense and substitute something ridiculous, then the law is failing to serve the public.

Two such cases were in the news this week. In Omaha, county assessors discussed what seems to be the legal requirement for sending out certain personal property tax forms again in 1968.

Since the Legislature eliminated household goods and personal effects as taxable items, assessors thought they were finished with these schedules. But now it has been ruled that such things as sporting equipment, pets, power lawn mowers, etc., cannot be classified as either household goods or personal effects.

If this is true, it is a blunder that could actually end up costing everyone money. Some assessors believe it will cost more to make the collections than will be taken in on such items.

Thus, owners of such property will pay the tax and the government unit will lose money on collecting it. If there is no way for this ridiculous situation to be remedied, then there is something wrong with our legal system.

We will grant, as State Tax Commisssioner Murrell McNeil has said, that when a law is written and interpreted, it is important that it be followed. But it is equally important that the law be intelligently written and intelligently interpreted. We doubt that either thing is true in this case.

If the law is subject to interpretation, it should be subject to legislative intent and it is believed that the intent of the Legislature was to remove the tax on all items on the personal property schedule. In the end, assessors will have to live with whatever the law is but if it turns out as now anticipated, citizens will have cause for considerable grumbling.

There is a citizen grumbling about the law down in Satellite Beach, Fla. This citizen's 11-year-old-son had his sidewalk refreshment stand closed by county health authorities on the grounds that the business did not have separate bathrooms for men and women.

The story was not too clear as to what the boy was selling but he apparently offered a limited line of food and drink. In August and September combined, the boy made $27.

Things are not too clear in this respect, either. It could be that the $27 was without overhead, the products sold being supplied by the boy's family. But whether the $27 was gross or net, it wasn't much money.

The stand in the boy's front yard could not have been doing what you would call a big volume business. Probably the boy could have been closed up under the zoning laws, too, since the property is not zoned for business.

This kind of nit-picking by public officials is uncalled for and out of line. The laws that apply to business and commerce are not expected to be enforced against youthful lemonade stands.

In most places, you cannot solicit without a permit. If this law were broadly enough applied, young boys could not go out and shovel snow in the winter or cut lawns in the summertime. Whether a tree house is legal under the zoning laws, we do not know.

It seems remarkable that adult human beings can come to the conclusions they do now and then, that they can make such a mess out of normally placid situations. You wonder if such people are not deliberately trying to make life miserable for everyone.

The Florida father promises that, unless he finds relief, he will become the "biggest crank in the state." We are all for him and hope he wins his battle against governmental bureaucracy.

No Drastic Changes In Our Young Folks

NEW YORK — A reassuring view of today's youth was offered to the worried adult world this week by a man who has — as much as any man in America — had the opportunity to observe their rebellious ways.

Clark Kerr is the man. Forced from his revered position as president of the University of California last year, after wild and bully student revolts on his campuses, Kerr has all the credentials which qualify him to look negatively upon unruly kids. But he doesn't. In fact, Kerr speaks with the most optimistic voice heard in some time when he says that students haven't changed from generation to generation.

"Sometimes only five per cent and sometimes up to 20 per cent are the ones who are most visible, most active," he says. "In the 20's it was Joe College, his flask and his coonskin coat. It was a careferee era, the golden age of sports. People were unconcerned about unemployment, or the coming war in Europe, or fascism. The country was having a good time; the students more so.

"Then when the nation went to war, so did the students. They're the ones who did something. After the war, the whole country wanted to get back to work and start producing automobiles. And the GI's came back. They set the tone; they wanted to get to work, too, only more so, and the campus was an earnest place.

"Then came the 50's. We had got the country going forward in peaceful pursuits. President Eisenhower came in and the whole tone of the country was: Let's take it easy for awhile; we're fed up with troubles. Remember how worried we were about the uncommitted and apathetic generation of students? They were the most actively inactive group in the country."

So, when he is asked what is wrong with today's generation of students, Kerr replies they are the same as they were in other years: They reflect the national mood — "but more so."

In his first public statement since becoming chairman of the Carnegie Commission on the Future of Higher Education, Kerr said also that he thought the period of successful student participation in the civil rights movements is over. "The black power group has thrown them out of the civil rights movement."

"We Are Losing In Vietnam!" "We Are Winning In Vietnam!"

We Lack Space Conviction

Russia's landing of a space vehicle on the surface of the planet Venus has, again, stirred discussion in this nation but not of such magnitude as that which grew out of the first Russian Sputnik a little more than 10 years ago. This is because the Americans have come to no conviction in the matter of space and its relative value to humanity.

There is still a vast number of people who subscribe to the theory that we have no business running around in space when we have not solved all the problems here on earth. These people question the expenditure of billions of dollars for reaching the moon when some of our own people are going to bed hungry at night and unable to get warm in the winter.

Unfortunately, the problem is not as simple as that. It is not merely a matter of dollars and cents about which we talk. Many of our domestic problems have social and psychological considerations that are as great as the financial considerations. In the end, we are saying that because of our failure to solve certain problems, there are other problems we cannot or should not tackle.

This is like a man saying to himself that he will not fix the falling ceiling in his house because he can do nothing about the leaky plumbing in his basement. It could be a fatal philosophy for us to adopt in the matter of space exploration. No one can prove to you that the master of space in the future will be the master of the world, but it is possible.

Space itself could ultimately prove to be a valuable asset. But there is no question that the knowledge accumulated in conquering space will be a substantial asset to whatever nations acquire it. We are taking a serious risk in letting Russia assume the leadership in space and could come to regret very greatly our own lack of foresight and sacrifice.

In Defense Of Reagan

They say that nearly anything is fair in love, war and politics, but a New York congressman has gone a bit far. Which places a burden on the fair writer to defend, of all people, California Gov. Ronald Reagan.

The other day in the House, Rep. Joseph Y. Resnick led off a short speech by terming Reagan "the fastest gun in the West." There is a below-the-belt reference to the fact that Reagan is a hawk. But then Resnick went too far. He said:

"In his latest scenario, the hair-trigger governor, after threatening to use nuclear weapons to bring about a final solution to the Vietnamese war, tells us he favors expanding the war with an American invasion of North Vietnam, if only the military will give the green light."

It seems unlikely that Resnick is unaware of what Reagan really said. Reagan never threatened to use nuclear weapons. What he said was that the Viet Cong should go to bed every night afraid that we might. Reagan obviously can't threaten to use N-weapons; he's the governor of California, not the president. Resnick, thus, engaged in the worst kind of distortion: subtle and hard to detect. And the problem created, of course, is that regardless of what Reagan really said the seed is planted by such men as Resnick and soon the thought will grow that Reagan really did say we should use the bomb.

And the truth never seems to catch up with the lie. Reagan could deny the statement from now on and his chances of being believed would be slim, indeed.

Reagan's statements are rash enough without distortion to destroy him politically. His record and public statements will hang him eventually — without any help from Resnick.

Capital Makes Ready For Demonstration; President Insists On The Right Of Dissent

WASHINGTON—The Capital of the United States is now preparing for what is advertised as the biggest anti-war rally in the history of the nation. The guess is that between 20,000 and 70,000 people will participate this weekend in a protest meeting at the Lincoln Memorial, a march to the Pentagon, and picketing and demonstrations there Saturday night and throughout Sunday.

In the emotional mood of the moment, the possibilities of some ugly scuffling and even bloodshed in these 48 hours are recognized both by government officials and the organizers of the protest. The latter, representing all kinds of student, political, religious, racial, and pacifist organizations, have emphasized that "this is a peaceful demonstration . . . our purpose is to protest the violence of the administration's policies in Vietnam, not to contribute to more violence," but there are two important problems.

First, the National Mobilization Committee to End the War in Vietnam is only a coordinating committee with no control over the members of many organizations who will attend the rally and march to the Pentagon.

Second, the leaders of the rally are not prepared to accept the principle on which permits for the rally are being granted: namely, that the government has the right and duty to set reasonable limits on where the demonstrations can take place and for how long.

David Dellinger, chairman of the National Mobilization Committee, says he is willing to accept limits of space and time on the demonstrations, but that he is not prepared, and is obviously not able, to bind others to exercise their rights of speech and protest within limited period and areas defined by the government.

This is the difficult point. On Dellinger's own testimony, the government has withdrawn from its original position that there could be no march or rally or provision for transporting such a vast crowd unless the committee repudiated any intention of civil disobedience. Beyond that, he agrees that the General Services Administration, which is representing the government, has made ample provision in time and space for the use of the Lincoln Memorial, the mall, and the north parking lot at the Pentagon for the transportation, the demonstrations, and the conveniences of the crowd.

There are elements coming here, however, who are not prepared to abide by the government's limitations on the areas of protest, and some who are not even willing to follow Dellinger's pronouncement that "this is a peaceful demonstration." Even the official program makes provisions for "direct action" and "sit-ins," so there will undoubtedly be trouble.

The Johnson administration, however, has approached this awkward problem in a reasonable spirit. It regrets the whole thing. It knows that the photographs against the background of the Lincoln Memorial and the Pentagon will be used against its Vietnam policy all over the world. It is convinced that the Communists will exploit the rally and even that some of them have helped organize it — though it will not make available its evidence for this last point. But it has cooperated in the arrangements, within constitutional bounds, and though it has insisted on order and security, and will have 2,700 District of Columbia National Guardsmen on hand, it obviously has the sanction of the Supreme Court for these limitations.

President Johnson himself has insisted, despite all the recent Vietnam criticism, that they have every right of dissent except the obstruction of public order or the security of public buildings.

The question is whether the anti-war committees will be as restrained. Their purpose is to change the Vietman policy, but if they attack the Pentagon instead of arguing their case, they will probably do precisely the opposite.

MARQUIS CHILDS

The Demo Intellectuals Rally

ST. PAUL, Minn. — In the heart of Hubert Humphrey land, a revolt is brewing. Once ardent activists in the Democratic - Farmer - Labor party have joined with Dissenting Democrats to try to substitute a favorite-son delegation for the Johnson-Humphrey slate at the national convention next summer.

Deeply troubled by the expanding war in Vietnam, their goal is to pressure the administration to de-escalate and find a compromise solution for ending the war. Several hundred sponsors signing a newspaper advertisement in the form of an open letter addressed to President Johnson, "Your administration threatens us daily with the prospect of an all-out confrontation with China and inevitably with the Soviet Union, leading us inexorably toward a thermonuclear holocaust."

While many of the signers are professors at the University of Minnesota and the other colleges in the Twin Cities area, they cannot be dismissed as merely being the "intellectuals" whom Secretary of State Dean Rusk scorns. These men and women have been the heart and soul of the DFL party in urban Minnesota. As one of Rep. Donald M. Fraser's principal workers put it, "That list reads like Don's volunteer committee in the last campaign."

This is the point that Rusk and others in the administration simply do not get when they spurn the intellectuals. For the Democrats in state after state, they have supplied not only the idealism but the enthusiasm and often a lot of the sheer hard work of getting out the vote. They are the yeast leavening the great lump of the Democratic party. And it is an exercise in ostrichism for the old-line professionals to assume that it will not matter if they sit it out in indifference or protest in 1968.

Today they are unhappy, troubled, confused by the course of the ever expanding war. They want somehow — they do not, to be sure, know how — to find a way out. The President has not convinced them that he is doing all he can to seek a negotiated peace. However bemused they may seem in Rusk's eyes, the Dissenting Democrats believe the resources of the United Nations have not been used to anything like the full potential in the search for peace.

Add to this that the party, as in other states, was deeply divided by a primary fight last year with an attempt to replace the inept Democratic governor, Karl Rolvaag, with young, energetic Alexander M. Keith. Rolvaag won the primary, only to be defeated in November by a conservative Republican, Harold LeVander.

The Dissenting Democrats mean to work in caucuses throughout the state for a delegation to the Democratic convention next year which is unpledged or pledged to a favorite son. They are putting forward Fraser and Minnesota's senior senator, Eugene McCarthy, as favorite-son delegations turn up at that if several hundred unpledged delegates or favorite-on delegations turn up at the Chicago convention, it will have a healthy impact on Johnson policies.

One of the most thoughtful men in the Senate, McCarthy has just had published a book, "The Limits of Power," that is a reposte to the Rusk thesis that China is the enemy in Asia and the war in Vietnam essential to America's security and the containment of Chinese communism. He concludes that "China is not today a threat to the United States . . . And that, despite her propaganda barrages, China is going to be compelled to devote most of her efforts and resources to her own internal problems." Citing the example of Korea where 55,000 American troops are still stationed, he asks whether the United States is prepared to maintain from 100,000 to 200,000 troops in South Vietnam as well for 15 or 20 years after the fighting stops.

The ideological differences over Vietnam and China loom large in Minnesota's Democratic party today or, at any rate, in that Farmer-Labor segment of the party in which ideas are important. The divide, as in neighboring Wisconsin where the presidential preference primary permits a "no" vote against the candidate, promises to cast a deepening shadow over the prospects of the Johnson-Humphrey ticket next year.

But the party regulars are convinced this will pass as events alter the course of the war. They point out that organized labor, the backbone of the urban party, holds to a Johnson hawkish line on the war. One of the few parties in the country enrolling dues-paying members at $1 a month, the DFL has recruited 2,200 new enrollees. At a recent fund-raiser with Vice President Humphrey presiding and Frank Sinatra providing the entertainment, an audience of more than 10,000 kicked over $100,000 to the party's treasury.

What is more, in a state that has always put up a lively political show, loyalties run deep. And those loyalties adhere, above all, to the ebullient Hubert Horatio.

Housing Code

Lincoln, Neb.

That copy of the Minimum Housing Code is one of the trickiest laws yet that the council has tried to wish onto us. It is urban renewal through the back door. I hope all voters read it and caught the 24 or more references to the city building code, plumbing and heating code and electrical code — but no copy of any of these codes to tell us what they say. The code itself as printed is not a true picture. It tells only a small part of the whole law. The real teeth are in the references, which we were not given a copy of.

I don't think the renters need protection as much as the rental owners. I have cleaned up three apartments in the past few weeks. I have cleaned up everything from floors, walls and furniture. I have cleaned up garbage from the kitchen wall and floor, and repaired furniture renters have wrecked. When renters come to look at a place, they check everything to be sure the landlord has it spotless — but you should see what they leave. Property owners are now demanding large cleaning deposits to cover the time and expense of returning the property to a liveable condition after these renters leave.

If people in older homes wish to sell, chances are their homes would be substandard in at least one major area, according to the proposed code, and would have to be brought up to the new standards in order to sell or even rent. It states, "as long as occupied," but beware if you wish to move. This would make some property practically worthless, and the big builders are just waiting to buy a lot of these homes for a small amount. Some homes would not be worth extensive remodeling or the owners could not afford it. The property would be bought and apartment buildings put up. New apartments are not required to stay 10 feet from the lot line or an existing dwelling. But if the little guy wishes to add on to his house, he must stay 10 feet away from everything, including his own garage.

Renters would have to pay for the improvements that would have to be made under the proposed code, along with all property owners. The cost of remodeling, the added taxes the owner is forced to pay for doing the remodeling, plus the salaries of inspectors needed to enforce this code would all be reflected in higher rents. And if existing laws are not being enforced, why does anyone think a new set of laws would help bad conditions? There are so few really bad places and these are not being taken care of now under the laws we have because the council is trying to force the new code to be adopted in order to get federal funds.

We need new people to enforce the laws we now have —not a new set of laws.

College Enrollment Up 6% In State

Enrollment at 26 Nebraska colleges and universities this fall totals some 6% higher than enrollment a year ago, a survey disclosed Thursday.

The 26 institutions, both public and private, showed a current total of 56,677 students, compared with 53,333 a year ago, or a gain of 3,344.

Dr. Freeman Decker, coordinator for state colleges who undertakes the annual survey, said the figures were obtained largely from questionnaires mailed to the schools.

The University of Nebraska was credited with 18,004 students, although a later revision has boosted that total to 18,067. Last year's university enrollment totaled 17,051.

Enrollments at other schools, with last year's figures in parenthesis:

University of Omaha 8,748 (8,480).
Kearney State 4,838 (4,399).

Work To End On South, 17th-26th, Friday Afternoon

The section of South St. from 17th to 26th now closed for widening and resurfacing will be opened to traffic mid-afternoon Friday, the city engineering office reported.

All that remains on that phase of the South St. improvement project is painting, striping and some sidewalk installation.

Work continues on the 13th to 17th segment which should be opened "sometime after Thanksgiving," the engineering division said.

SALES-INCOME TAX FOE READIES INITIATIVE DRIVE

The South Omaha businessman who has promised to launch a statewide anti-income and sales tax and pro-property tax initiative campaign consulted Thursday with state officials about how to go about the effort.

John M. Graff, operator of a tire wholesale firm, told Deputy Secretary of State Allen J. Beermann he definitely will sponsor the tax drive.

"It looks like he's going ahead," Beermann told newsmen. "He appeared to be sincere."

Beermann informed Graff of the legal requirements necessary to place the tax proposition on the November, 1968, ballot.

These include the gathering of 48,640 valid signatures before July 5, 1968. The names must come from 38 counties and represent 5% of the electors within those counties.

"I also told him to get a lawyer since we cannot advise him about the legality of the form of the petition or the wording," Beermann said.

Damage By Hit-And-Run Mishaps Up

Property damage resulting from hit-and-run accidents during September was twice that of any previous single-month dollar total since records have been kept, according to the Lincoln Police Department.

Sgt. Warren Chrastil, accident investigator, said that $8,051 in damages were incurred last month, of which $4,195 were "cleared," meaning the offender caught.

Sgt. Chrastil began keeping damage figures accident-by-accident in March. The monthly average prior to September was under $4,000.

From March 1 to Oct. 1 he reported a total of $29,930 in hit-and-run damage, of which $21,974 was cleared.

He noted that 212 accidents were reported during that period and 169 were cleared.

Several multiple vehicle accidents plus damage to city utility poles accounted for the high September total, he said.

Peace Corps Test Set

The Peace Corps' placement test will be given in Nebraska on Saturday at 1:30 p.m. The Lincoln test will be given in Room 415 of the main Post Office Building and the Omaha test in Room 1014 of the Federal Building.

Legislative Group Launches Property Appraisal Study

A legislative council committee headed by Sen. George Gerdes of Alliance embarked Thursday on a study of property appraisals for tax purposes.

Although many interim studies on taxes have been made, Gerdes said he believed the current study, ordered by the 1967 Legislature, to be the first specifically pinpointed at the problem of valuing property for purposes of tax.

Tax Commissioner Murrell McNeil appeared before the committee at its organization session to detail valuation procedures and the status of scientific property tax reappraisals being conducted in Nebraska under terms of 1963 legislation making such paid reappraisals mandatory.

Gerdes said firms conducting such reappraisals will be invited to hearings before the committee Nov. 9 and 10.

Sen. Arnold Ruhnke of Plymouth was chosen committee vice chairman.

Other committee members include Sens. Ramey C. Whitney of Chappell, Elmer Wallwey of Emerson, Bill K. Bloom and George Syas of Omaha, and William M. Wylie of Elgin.

Fire Chiefs Tab Brokaw As Head

Columbus (AP)—The Nebraska Fire Chiefs Association elected Valley Fire Chief Edward Brokaw president Thursday.

Superior Fire Chief Dan Smalley was named vice president and Schuyler Chief Russell Salak was re-named secretary-treasurer.

The chiefs, meeting in conjunction with the Nebraska Volunteer Firemen and Auxiliary, discussed the possibility of making a training program mandatory for volunteer firemen but took no action.

About 800 volunteer firemen and their wives throughout Nebraska were expected for the convention which will continue through Saturday.

Bolsheviks Score Some Impressive 'Firsts' In Space

dezvous missions and unmanned flights to the moon and the planets, the U.S. has matched and in some areas surpassed the Russians.

YAMS ..... 10¢ lb.
IDEAL GROCERY & MARKET, 905 So. 27th

The last successful manned flight by Russians came in March, 1965. The death of a cosmonaut in the Soyuz spacecraft crash in April, 1967, like the Apollo spacecraft fire in the U.S., sent engineers back to their drawing boards.

Soviet determination and persistence clearly are impressive. They tried five times before they finally succeeded in soft-landing on the moon a vehicle capable of returning pictures. They tried at least six times to launch spacecraft to Mars, only two of which came close, and those two failed to return data.

Their approach to manned flight is conservative. Animals were subjected to more than 100 orbits before Gagarin made his flight. Contrary to persistent rumors western observers say they can find no evidence of more than one cosmonaut casualty in space.

The known scientific results of Soviet space operations do not compare in importance with the discovery by the first American spacecraft, Explorer 1, of radiation belts around earth, the Van Allen belts.

Sir Bernard Lovell, director of Britain's Jodrell Bank Observatory and probably the only man who has inspected both American and Soviet space installations, concluded after a visit to the Soviet Union in 1963:

"Although the Russians may have superiority purely in the sense of rocketry, the Americans have tremendous superiority over the Russians in their ability to instrument their space vehicles and in the extraction of space information."

But the Soviet commitment to space exploration appears to be deep and abiding. As the showcase of Soviet science, it has been primarily responsible for a fivefold increase in science and research spending since 1957. About 1,500,000 Russians are believed to be involved directly in the planning, production and operations of the space program.

Large Craft Hinted

The Russians give no clear indications of their plans. There have been hints, however, of preparations for spacecraft much larger than anything the U.S. contemplates at this time.

This implies that the Soviet Union may be concentrating more on developing greater earth-orbiting capabilities than on going to the moon.

Orbiting laboratories could be put to both scientific and military uses.

For such uses to be practical, the men and vehicles must be able to stay in orbit for weeks or months. The Russians, though they have yet to match Gemini 7's 14-day endurance test, have shown interest in long-duration flights.

Mounting Soviet interest in earth-orbital and long-duration missions has led some to conclude that the Russians may have dropped out of the moon race. The argument is based on Soviet slowness to demonstrate a capability to rendezvous in space and their apparent lack of a rocket comparable to the American Saturn 5 moon rocket.

Around Moon?

Intelligence sources in Washington, however, have insisted for more than a year that the Soviet Union was developing a more powerful rocket. And a number of American space officials say they would not be surprised if the next Soviet "spectacular" was a manned flight around the moon. A circumlunar flight without a landing, they believe, could be accomplished as an outgrowth of present Soviet capabilities in rocketry and spacecraft.

Aleksandr P. Vinogradov, a vice president of the Soviet Academy of Sciences and a leading geochemist, told a visitor to Moscow this year of the results of gamma-ray studies to determine the composition of the moon's surface. He conceded that his observations were preliminary and that more definite studies would be necessary.

"We will not have to wait long," he said with a knowing look.

Daugherty New President Of NACI

The Nebraska Association of Commerce and Industry (NACI) Thursday elected Valley industrialist Robert B. Daugherty president for the coming year.

The NACI, successor to the State Chamber of Commerce and Associated Industries of Nebraska, is holding its two-day annual meeting at the Lincoln Hotel.

The group consists of about 700 business and industrial firms and local chambers of commerce throughout the state.

Suceeds Martin

Daugherty, 44, previous NACI vice president, succeeds Lincoln businessman Bennett S. Martin, president of the Lincoln Terminal Co.

He is one of the three founders of Valmont-Industries and is a member of the Midwest Export Expansion Council and the board of directors of the Needham Packing Co., Sioux City, Iowa, and the Great Plains Natural Gas Co.

Friday's activities will include a legislative panel consisting of State Sens. Elvin Adamson of Valentine, Rick Budd of Nebraska City, C. W. Holmquist of Oakland, John E. Knight of Lincoln, Stanley A. Matzke of Milford and Jerome Warner of Waverly.

Budget Act

Discussion subjects will include taxation, electrical rates, higher education, a uniform budget act for local government and streets and highways.

The meeting will adjourn Friday afternoon following a noon luncheon address, "Understanding Applied Management," by James E. Allen of the Des Moines, Iowa, management consulting firm of Batten, Batten, Hudson & Swab, Inc.

New vice presidents elected Thursday were Marvin G. Schmid, an Omaha attorney; Robert Gangel of Columbus, Nebraska operations manager for the Becton-Dickinson Co.; Richard G. Kizzier of Kearney, president of the Kizzier Chevrolet Co., and Alan Williams of Scottsbulff, president of Zoellners Ltd.

Re-Elected

Re-elected as vice presidents were W. W. Cook Sr., president of the Beatrice National Bank at Beatrice, and Charles E. Blair of Hastings, president of the J. M. McDonald Co.

Earl T. Luff of Lincoln, president of the Lincoln Steel Corporation, was re-elected treasurer. Glenn J. McEniry was re-named executive vice president and secretary.

Eight new district directors and six new directors at large had been previously elected in mail balloting by the entire NACI membership.

New district directors are James R. Smith and Fred H. Hawkins, both of Omaha; Donald Freeman of York, John Higgins of Schuyler, H. David Aycock of Norfolk, Ervin Burkholder of Cozad, William Mountford of Red Coud and Carl W. Christ Jr. of Sidney.

Tiemann Names Four, Announces 2 Reappointments

Four new appointments and two reappointments were announced Thursday by Gov. Norbert T. Tiemann.

The new selections include Larry Tighe, Norfolk, Collection Agency Board; Dale F. Sailors, Omaha, Motor Vehicle Dealers License Board; Richard Wilson, Lincoln, Radiation Advisory Council, and W. W. Marshall Jr., Grand Island, Hastings State Hospital Advisory Committee.

Reappointed to the Radiation Council were Ben Zersen and Dr. Herman W. Knoche, both of Lincoln.

General Fund Allows Plane Purchase

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

The governor's new executive plane—a twin-engine Grand Commander—is the first in the state's history to be purchased with a general fund appropriation, State Aeronautics Director Howard West said Thursday.

Vest said the aircraft with full equipment will cost $215,824, nearly $42,000 under the manufacturer's list price.

The Grand Commander, scheduled for delivery sometime after Oct. 20, is being manufactured by Rockwell-Standard Corporation's Aero Commander Division at Bethany, Okla.

The balance will come from the sale of the state-owned 1962 Aero Commander and the department's promotional and developmental funds.

Vest said the department expects to realize "in excess of $46,000" from the sale of the old plane, when the bids are opened Oct. 24. It originally cost $90,000 when purchased five years ago.

The director explained about $15,000 would be used from the Department of Aeronautics' cash funds for the remaining balance.

"A major overhaul on the old plane would have cost $15,000, and this money is being used for a new one," he said.

As the 1962 plane was originally purchased with cash funds, proceeds from its sale as "surplus equipment" can be used by the department in the purchase of a new plane, Vest said.

The attorney general's office agrees this authority exists in state law.

A spokesman said proceeds from equipment originally purchased with general fund money must revert to the general fund, but proceeds from equipment purchased with cash funds or federal money revert to the department's cash funds.

The promotional and development fund of the aeronautics department is derived from aviation fuel taxes and other miscellaneous cash revenue and is used for the promotion of aviation activities and operation of the department's aircraft. The appropriated cash fund totals $184,568.

Vest said the department is estimating the new Grand Commander will cost about $100 per flying hour in operation and depreciation costs. This compares with $60 per hour for the old Aero Commander.

State departments or agencies using the plane will be charged $100 per flying hour, but the governor's flying time is billed against the department's budget.

Vest said state law requires the department to bear the cost of the plane used by the governor in much the same manner as the State Patrol is required to furnish a car and driver for the governor from its budget.

Department records show Gov. Norbert Tiemann used $10,435 "worth of flying time" in the governor's plane during his first nine months in office.

During his last two years in office, former Gov. Frank Morrison flew $21,670 "worth" in 1965 and $18,163 in 1966.

The new Grand Commander has a seating capacity for eight persons, including the pilot. The plane, designed to cruise at 240 miles per hour at an optimum altitude of 14,000 to 15,000 feet, has a pressurized cabin and the latest in safety and navigational aids, including a computerized automatic pilot, weather radar and de-icing equipment.

Blackledge Quits Over School Land Sales Law

The chairman of the State Board of Educational Lands and Funds, H. L. Blackledge of Kearney, Thursday resigned because of his opposition to the sale of school lands.

Blackledge, an attorney, made the announcement in a letter to Gov. Norbert T. Tiemann.

He called the 1965 law which provides for the sale of school lands "contrary to the best interests of the people of Nebraska." He said he could not in good faith administer the act.

Blackledge also indicated he opposes the 1967 law which creates a State Investment Board to place certain trust funds on the open stock market instead of restricting them to government bonds.

Blackledge, 67, was first appointed to the board by the late Democratic Gov. Ralph Brooks in 1959 and reappointed in 1964 by former Democratic Gov. Frank B. Morrison. His term expires in 1969.

"I feel very strongly that the sale of our public lands is a serious mistake, and contrary to the best interests of future generations," he said in his letter of resignation.

"To sell our public lands now would be tantamount to a declaration that Nebraska real estate has reached its maximum potential, and this is something that I do not believe."

August Intake Of Sales-Use Tax Is Record $5,730,865

Revenue from the state's 2½% sales and use tax collections hit a new high of $5,730,865 for the month of August.

The state tax commissioner's office disclosed Thursday that the August sales-use tax was up almost $600,000 from July and approximately $1.5 million greater than the June collections.

Collections for the first three months of the tax have totaled $15,177,056, substantially above expectations.

Tax officials had expected collections to be down during the summer months because they are traditionally slow retailing periods. Also, the beat-the-tax buying in April and May significantly curtailed June and July sales.

Current predictions are that the sales tax during the fall and pre-Christmas period will bring in at least $6 million a month.

Multiple-Unit Housing Is 'To Increase'

The President of the National Association of Real Estate Boards said Thursday that in the next few years "we will have to have two million starts annually" to provide housing for new households and replace those lost through demolitions.

Speaking before some 400 realtors attending the golden anniversary convention of the Nebraska Real Estate Association (NREA) in Lincoln, Richard B. Morris of Buffalo, New York, predicted that multiple-unit housing would play an increasingly important role in the real estate market "partly as a result of rising land prices and higher building costs."

The median price of houses sold this year, he continued, is up nearly $1000 over last year. Morris said that although an increasing percentage of sales are in higher-priced brackets, about 40% of the existing homes sold were in brackets below $17,500.

Morris cited employment as the key to problems causing the "ugly and senseless riots which made battlegrounds of Newark, Detroit, Milwaukee and other cities," which he said "at least pointed up the deficiencies of education, employment and housing."

"Any attempts to make improvements," he said, "must be one of partnership, one that will enlist the cooperation of private industry and government."

Morris endorsed the rent supplement program and called federal subsidy measures that will help people of low incomes own their own homes a "step in the right direction."

Own Homes

"Millions of citizens," he continued, "feel that they have no stake in upholding our laws and maintaining our institutions. Let them begin to own their own homes and we will have a change."

Morris criticized federal programs aimed at middle income groups, suggesting that people of low incomes should benefit from programs designed to help them own their own homes.

In an earlier speech, John C. Williamson of Washington, D.C., director of governmental relations for the National Association of Real Estate Boards, reviewed federal legislation of interest to realtors.

Williamson cited proposed legislation for urban development, especially programs introduced by Sens. Charles Percy, R-Ill. and Robert Kennedy, D.-N.Y., calling them "legislative solutions which attempt a new approach to the problem of housing low-incom families."

Williamson agreed that the major problem "is in the core areas. Somehow industrial America must build and rehabilitate housing in these areas" for non-affluent citizens.

Commenting on the possibility of a future federal open housing law, Williamson said, "The drive for forced open housing laws penalizes the poor, because it involves these housing programs in the civil rights controversy."

"All of the existing housing programs for low-income families have become mired down by the definition of them in terms of racial integration," he continued.

Williamson claimed that the resistance of Polish, Italian, or Irish ethnic communities to forced housing laws is "attributable to a desire to preserve certain ethnic and cultural values," which he called necessary for the communal solidarity and power of low income groups to compel "eventual access to the mainstream of urban life."

Boys Training School Assigned Psychologist

State Correctional Institutions Director Maurice Sigler announced Thursday a psychologist will be assigned to the Boys Training School at Kearney for the first time.

He is Dr. Brad Bigelow, currently staff psychologist at the penitentiary and men's reformatory here. The transfer will take effect before Jan. 1.

Dr. Bigelow, 30, has been in penal work for eight years and has been on the penal complex staff as a full-time psychologist since 1963.

A native of Lyons, he holds a doctorate degree from the University of Nebraska.

Sigler said Dr. Bigelow will split his time between Kearney and the Girls Training School at Geneva.

He will be in charge of educational testing and mental health treatment programs at both institutions.

Sigler said he has no present plans to replace Dr. Bigelow on a full-time basis on the penal complex staff. However, he was hopeful the University of Nebraska would supply a student psychologist to help coordinate educational testing programs at the prison.

Housing Code OK Unanimous In Group's Vote

The East Lincoln Business and Professional Association Thursday endorsed the proposed city minimum housing standards code.

There were no dissenting votes, an association spokesman reported.

The proposed code, passed by the City Council in May, will be put to a public vote Nov. 14.

POSTCARD by Stan Opfinger

Yellow jacket time around Shady Acres. I mean those mean, buzzing beggars who bite you. They are worse than bees.

I understand after they bayonet you, they go off and die. But that's poor consolation. Bees do the same. But they are not as irritable as yellow jackets.

A lady name of Elizabeth Opfinger studied bees and wrote about them. She proved they were not so smart. They did not recognize the color of a flower while blowing its safe for the honey.

☆ ☆ ☆

I don't know what yellow jackets do for a living. But they've been coming in the open door and buzzing around. It makes us all nervous.

"Can't you shoo him out?" All hands then retire to the bathroom and close the door. (I should go around shooing yellow jackets! The blighter might pull a knife on me.)

I may be forced to build a yellow jacket trap.

☆ ☆ ☆

I built such a trap some years ago. It was a great success. All the moppets in the neighborhood came around.

They said: "Can we watch you build the yellow jacket trap?"

I said: "Sure. Stick around. We'll murder them."

I got the trap instructions out of a magazine.

"Take an ordinary funnel." I got a funnel out of the drawer. It looked ordinary enough. Can you get funnels that are extraordinary?

"Stuff the funnel tube with hamburger." I did that.

☆ ☆ ☆

I moved the operation into the house, behind closed doors. Child audience and all.

"Plug the small end of the funnel with a cork." Hard to find a cork that fits a funnel. I cut down a wine cork and it worked.

"Now take the funnel and turn it upside down and hang it over a large bowl of detergent."

When they fly out, they lose their sense of direction. They fly into the detergent and come to a deserved and ghastly end.

It seems yellow jackets do not have an instrument rating. They fly like old time pilots. By the seat of their pants. Consequently, they spin in.

That is what these yellow jackets did.

They came by the hundreds, scenting the hamburger from far away.

Instead of a few yellow jackets around, the hamburger attracted swarms.

They could not all get into the hamburger. (I imagine there were no yellow jackets left around the neighbor houses. They were all over at mine.)

"Ouch! One stung me!"

Several went home crying. The word got around that I enticed children to my house, spread hamburger on them and let yellow jackets sting them.

Mothers gave me hard looks in the supermarket. I was afraid to order hamburger. I had a reputation of being some kind of a fiend.

☆ ☆ ☆

I should set up a row of them. Make it a mass slaughter.

Poverty, Crime Not Causally Connected

. . . OMAHAN CONTENDS

The head of the Omaha Citizens Crime Commission declared here Thursday that "if we continue to try to cover up for crime with poverty reasons, we are doomed for a long time."

Poverty and crime are related, but they are "not casually related," W. W. (Wally) Keenan told some 350 persons attending the Lincoln Community Council general meeting.

Keenan, a former special agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, branded as "hogwash" editorial response to the President's Crime Commission report that said the war against crime couldn't be won until the war on poverty is.

'Poverty Pockets'

Results of the Omaha study, he pointed out, indicate that "crime does not belong to any particular society or economic level. The increasing crime is not in the poverty pockets of Omaha."

The increasing crime is in Omaha's west side "where affluence is on the upgrade," he said.

However, it was noted, since there is a relationship between poverty and crime, the commission recommended creation of jobs for the unemployed, encouraging low income housing and assisting the schools and police in identifying potential dropouts and criminal delinquents.

Disrespect

Keenan attribtued part of the problems of law enforcement to a breakdown in respect for authority during the past 10 or 20 years. When there is disrespect in the home, school and church, "you can't expect anything else but disrespect for law enforcement," he said.

"People are responsible for crime, and it won't be curbed until we are ready to get it under control," he carged.

The crime commission head reported on the operation and procedures of the citizens' group as it performed a six-months' study just completed.

The commission, which worked in six study groups on law and order, courts, corrections and rehabilitation, juvenile delinquency, crime and health, summoned hundreds and none refused to testify at closed hearings, according to Keenan.

The group, he said, did not have a budget, any obligations to the mayor, council or governmental agency, or the power of subpoena.

Keenan told the Community Council he thought that in the area of juvenile delinquency "we have an opportunity to make some inroads on crime."

The great bulk of juvenile delinquents "can be salavaged," he declared, with such things as proper facilities for correction and rehabilitation of various levels of delinquency.

Responding to Keenan's talk, Lincoln Board of Education President Ed Copple complained that too much time and money is spent emphasizing the juvenile delinquents rather than in providing facilities and activities for "the other 90%" of youths.

The city's recreation has been studied but "we haven't done anything with the recommendations," he charged.

Same Price

Youth groups are charged the same price to use Pershing Auditorium for dances as adult and commercial groups because the "managers want to run it in the black," Copple protested.

Keenan said that the commission found "no organized or syndicated crime in Omaha" which he attributed to "not enough loose, free money in the city."

Recommendations from the study groups included a permanent citizens' crime commission for Omaha, necessary legislation to assist law enforcement, freeing the position of chief of police from Civil Service, improving the efficiency of the system of criminal justice and expansion of the vice squad.

Administration Urges Spending Cut Reversal

© New York Times Service

Washington — The Johnson administration, rocked by a congressional economy move, pleaded with the Senate Thursday to reverse House action that could force federal spending cutbacks of up to $8 billion.

Whole programs could be wiped out and others badly crippled, Budget Director Charles L. Schultze told the Senate Appropriations Committee.

The committee was hastily called into session Thursday following House approval Wednesday night of a patchwork economy bill designed to force President Johnson into trimming federal domestic spending.

The Senate committee is expected to shelve the House measure — or at least water it down considerably — when it meets again Friday.

The ultimatum, which officials estimate could trim spending by $6 billion to $8 billion by next June 30, was attached to an emergency measure to finance many government agencies whose regular appropriations bills have not yet passed Congress.

Spending authority for these agencies will expire next Monday.

The House measure would require many government agencies to hold spending in the current fiscal year to last year's levels.

4-Year Plan Costs

Madrid (AP) —Spain's four-year development plan starting next year calls for government spending of $1.9 billion in 1968 and a steady increase until the fourth year when the outlay will be $2.67 billion, official figures showed.

State, Local Control Of Poverty War Gets OK

Washington (UPI) — The House Education and Labor Committee voted Thursday to give governors and mayors strong control over war on poverty programs.

The committee approved the concept of state and local control of poverty programs and then Thursday firmly locked the mechanics of it into the antipoverty bill it has been drafting for the past month.

Four Republicans joined 14 Democrats to approve the control amendment offered by Rep. Edith Green, D-Ore. Five Democrats and six Republicans opposed it.

OEO Would Approve

The Green proposal would designate the state, or cities and counties, as the prime organizers of local Community Action Programs, which work with the poor. The aid programs would have to be approved by the U.S. Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO) and then the state or city would contract with private or public agencies to carry out the programs.

Federal money would flow through elected or appointed public officials to the agencies which would operate under a board of trustees. The officials would make up a third of the board's memberships while poverty-area residents would have a one-third voice and representatives of business, labor, religious, civic and charitable groups would make up the other third.

Under strong prodding by Rep. Augustus Hawkins, a Democrat from the Watts area in Los Angeles and only Negro member of the committee, the panel included a "bypass" which would allow private agencies to deal directly with OEO if the local unit of government failed to apply for a poverty program.

Direct Contracts

Poverty programs under the present law are carried out by public or private agencies which contract directly with OEO. Elected officials can now participate in the agency but are not guaranteed a role in the local programs.

Rep. Charles E. Goodell, R-N.Y., said local poverty programs would be turned into "puppets" of local government and would not be able to work effectively.

Rep. Roman Pucinski, D-Ill., said, however, mayors across the nation complain they must take the blame for bad administration of poverty programs over which they have no control.

ABBY

a variety of opinions

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Recently you had a letter in your column from a woman signed "Californian," who stated that she and her 30-year-old son had shared a twin-bedded motel room to save expenses while traveling cross-country. She said when she casually mentioned this fact to some of her friends, their eyebrows shot up at the "indecency" of such a sleeping arrangement.

Well, if I had been Californian, I would have said, "Look, my son has seen my navel before — and from the INSIDE yet.

Sincerely yours,
FLORIDIAN

DEAR ABBY: After reading your letter from the woman who signed herself "Californian," and your answer that she should not concern herself with what others think, believe me, MY eyebrows shot up, too.

My son is 30, and we wouldn't think of sharing a room. She claims she did it to save expenses. There must be cheaper accommodations.

I wonder if your answer would have been the same if it had been a father and his daughter? Or perhaps a brother and sister, both grown, but close in age?

And why did the mother casually mention such a matter to her friends? Would she have mentioned that she and her husband had shared a room? Probably not, because that would have been socially acceptable behavior.

I may be stupid to see anything indecent about this, but I think Mamma was looking for approval because she knew it wasn't the thing to do.

Usually, you are right on the ball. But no one can be right all the time. I think that woman should at least be told to keep such information to herself.

Birthday Honoree

The special guest at a family gathering in Lincoln last week was Mrs. Maude Johnson of Arapahoe, who celebrated her 88th birthday anniversary on Wednesday, Oct. 11.

Mrs. Johnson was honored by 30 members of her family at a dinner held at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Joe Vrana. Eight of her nine children were present for the celebration including Mrs. Vrana, sons, John Fifer and Schuyler Fifer, all of Lincoln; daughters, Mrs. H. E. Melum, Calimesa, Calif.; Mrs. Evelyn Leedy, Bellflower, Calif.; Mrs. Mary Flieder, Denver; and Miss Nora Fifer, Araphoe; and son, Ben Fifer, Le Roy, Minn. Unable to attend was her son, William Fifer of Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

Mrs. Johnson, who has 15 grandchildren, 32 great-grandchildren, and two great-great grandchildren, also was the surprised honoree on Friday evening, when additional members of the family arrived in Lincoln for dinner and an informal evening.

The birthday honoree was born in Palmyra, and formerly made her home in Valparaiso before moving to Arapahoe.

BIDDING QUIZ

You are South, neither side vulnerable. The bidding has been:

North	East	South	West
1 ♣	Pass	1 ♥	Pass
3 NT	Pass	?

What would you bid now with each of the following four hands?

1. ♠A95 ♥AJ82 ♦Q74 ♣Q93
2. ♠A73 ♥J8752 ♦K8642 ♣——
3. ♠K84 ♥AQ9753 ♦6 ♣Q86
4. ♠6 ♥AK94 ♦Q973 ♣K872

1. Six notrump. This is simply a matter of arithmetic. North's rebid of three notrump shows at least 20 points and a notrump type of hand. Adding our 13 points, we have the 33 in the combined hands that make a slam contract mandatory.

2. Pass. The first thing to decide is whether or not there is a reasonable chance of making a slam. If there is a slam, it would almost surely be in one of our two suits, since we are quite a distance away from the 33 high-card points usually required for a notrump slam. Suit slams can frequently be made with 3 or 4 points less than the number required for notrump slams.

In this case, though, the two suits that are candidates for trump are both relatively weak. There is a danger that partner has considerable length in clubs, much of which would be wasted if hearts or diamonds became trump. It is already known that partner's heart strength is limited, since he failed to raise hearts right away, and it is not worth gambling that North has the ideal diamond and heart holdings that would justify a slam.

There should be no doubt about partner's making three notrump. With 28 high-card points as a nucleus, he should have no trouble bringing home nine tricks.

3. Four clubs. In this case a slam must be bid even though you cannot be sure of more than 31 high-card points in the two hands. The chief problem is whether hearts or clubs will serve best as trumps. If partner has either ♥K-x and ♣A-K-J-x-x, or ♥J-x and ♣A-K-x-x-x-x, clubs would be the better trump suit.

If North bids five clubs over four, we raise him to six clubs; if he bids four hearts over four clubs, we go on to six hearts.

4. Six clubs. Again the distribution indicates a slam even though we may wind up a point shy of 33. Actually, the greater danger is that North will have exactly the right distribution and high cards to make seven, but it is always difficult to locate both these factors in perfect-fitting hands. The odds strongly favor making six and are against making seven, so you settle for six.

Bride At Thursday Ceremony

The candlelighted chancel of Blessed Sacrament Church was appointed with white blossoms, Thursday evening, Oct. 19, for the marriage of Miss Constance Justice, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice E. Justice, to Renard Walt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman E. Walt. The ceremony was solemnized at 7 o'clock by the Rev. F. J. Machovec.

Floor-length Empire frocks of silk and crepe in moss green, touched with embroidered daisy trim, were worn by Mrs. John P. Curran of Oak Harbor, Wash., who was her sister's matron of honor; and the bridesmaids, Miss Janet Justice of Denver, also a sister of the bride; and Miss Jean McLaughlin. Bells of Ireland and white Fuji chrysanthemums fashioned their pinnacle bouquets.

Serving Mr. walt as best man was Thomas Yaussi, and the corps of ushers included Robert Schmer of Wahoo; William Minier, William Kenagy, Tim Ash, Louis Gogela and Robert Beckman.

Floral appliques of Alencon lace patterned the bride's gown of white silk organza smoothed over taffeta. The lace bordered the crescent neckline of the long-sleeved basque and was repeated at the hem of the slim skirt, which was complemented by a panel train extending to chapel length. Her bouffant veil of silk illusion was held to the head by a cap of organza petals dotted with pearls, and she carried a modern arrangement of white orchids.

Mr. Walt and his bride will make their home at 1020 E. Mrs. Walt is a former student at the University of Nebraska, from which the bridegroom will receive his degree in January. He is a member of Phi Gamma Delta fraternity.

Parents' Coffee

The annual Parents Day coffee of the University of Nebraska department of physical education for women will be held from 9:30 o'clock to 11:30 o'clock, Saturday, in room 203 of Bancroft Hall.

Special guests will be parents of women students in physical education at the University of Omaha.

Staff members in charge of arrangements are Miss Margaret Penny, chairman, Miss Mary Abersfeller, Miss Myreen Loveless and Mrs. Mimi Haworth.

Picnic

Volunteers who have been assisting with the Pre-School for the Visually Handicapped, and their husbands, will be honored at a picnic supper next Tuesday evening, at the Christian Record, 4444 So 52nd.

Following the supper, a program will be given under the direction of Richard Hansen, president of the school, and the new instructor, Mrs. Katharine Duffield.

Committee Appointed

Presidents of various women's organizations in Lincoln will meet Friday morning at the home of Mayor and Mrs. Sam Schwartzkopf to plans for a coffee honoring mothers of htose who are serving in the Armed Forces.

Mrs. L. A. Enersen has been named chairman of the committee planning the coffee, which will be held the morning of Nov. 11.

'Fun' Is The Name Of The Game

Things may be better tomorrow afternoon. There isn't any Friday—the 13th—to cast an evil shadow over the football field as was the case last Saturday.

But whatever the outcome the name of the game as far as the town is concerned is fun.

* * *

There's nothing quite like having your own football rally—including a bonfire, and that is exactly what Dr. and Mrs. Norman Cromwell are doing this evening. Dr. and Mrs. Cromwell, as all of their friends know, reside at 66th and Shamrock Road, and in the planning of their back terrace and garden they gave consideration to parties such as the picnic this evening. They arranged a spot for bonfires.

Twenty-four guests have been invited, mainly members of the University of Nebraska faculty, to cheer themselves up—and the Nebraska Cornhuskers on.

* * *

Then comes game day with parties galore—both pre- and post—all around town.

One of the pre-game brunches will have Mr. and Mrs. J. Wallace DeBrown as host and hostess at their home. Mr. and Mrs. DeBrown will greet 45 guests, and among them will be out-of-town guests.

* * *

Yesterday we told you that Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cunningham of New York City; John Cunningham of St. Louis and two of his Phi Delta Theta brothers at Washington University, would be in town for the game weekend — the guests of Robert and John Cunningham's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Cunningham.

But we didn't quite finish the story yesterday. We wanted to tell you that Saturday and Sunday are to be busy days for the Cunningham family — On Saturday, an afternoon at the game and an evening attending the Ak-Sar-Ben festivities in Omaha. On Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Cunningham will entertain at a family dinner at noon, and will be host and hostess at an open house on both Sunday afternoon and evening, as courtesies to their guests.

Also on the Sunday afternoon calendar is the 3 o'clock to 4 o'clock tea for which Mrs. J. Taylor Greer will be hostess at her home as an informal courtesy to Miss Jane Sommer, field director of the Seven College Conference. The guest list will include junior high school principals and Guidance Counselors, and the Lincoln alumnae of the seven women's colleges in the Conference.

* * *

Just this moment we learned of guests from Colorado who will be arriving today. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ankeny are coming from Denver to attend the game, and to spend a week as the house guests of Mrs. Ankeny's mother, Mrs. O. R. Mallat.

ADVENTUROUS CASUAL FURS

If you'd like a little fur to wear to tomorrow's football game . . . a fur which goes to all sorts of places where one never used to dream of wearing furs . . . then come visit our Fur Salon and see the great adventurous collection — like the one here in dyed stenciled calf that takes the look of the tiger. It's black leather-bound and bound for many exciting compliments, $395. Convenient Fur Payment Plan at your service. Fur products labeled to show country of imported furs. FUR SALON, SECOND FLOOR.

IN suburban areas

With all of the hustle and bustle of tomorrow's big game only about 24 hours away (give or take a few), it is reasonable to imagine that many of the festivities have already begun, with even more scheduled for this evening and all day tomorrow. Pep rallies, pre-game luncheons and parties help boost the spirit of Husker supporters, and add to the general aura of excitement that hovers over the Capital City on a football day. After the gridiron contest, post game dinners and informal get-togethers provide fans the opportunity to discuss various plays, and either celebrate a victory or bemoan a loss (of course, we hope that the former will be the case!). No wonder each football season turns out to be the favorite time of year for most Lincoln residents—at no other time do they have so much to do, and such beautiful weather in which to do it.

Prairie Valley has been a particularly busy area recently. This is due in part to the arrival and departure of guests. Visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Avery Mason has been Mrs. Mason's brother, Robert Curtis of Wichita, Kan. More company will be arriving today as another of Mrs. Mason's brothers Wallace Curtis and Mrs. Curtis make the trip to Lincoln from Ainsworth. Of course, one of the highlights for the whole family will be attending the game (we hear that the Kansas visitor will be rooting for NU!), and Mrs. Mason tells us that they plan to catch up on a lot of visiting over the weekend.

Hosting a visitor from Turkey last week were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Roth. Miss Fensenll Tuzun, who is from Istanbul and who is a graduate of the University of Nebraska, spent a week here renewing many acquaintances. It was the second time that Mr. and Mrs. Roth have seen Miss Tuzun this year, since they called on her in Istanbul last summer while they were vacationing abroad. Miss Tuzun plans to spend a year in Peoria, Ill., where she will be on the staff of one of the hospitals, before returning home to Turkey.

Newcomers at a 600 E. Eldora Lane address this morning are Mr. and Mrs. Delmer Helgeson and their son, Gary. Former residents of St. Paul, Minn., Mr. and Mrs. Helgeson call North Dakota home although, says Mrs. Helgeson, after a month in Lincoln the family's beginning to like the city very much.

Mr. Helgeson who is associated with the U.S. Department of Agriculture research at the University of Nebraska, likes to hunt and fish with his son in their spare time. Mrs. Helgeson enjoys sewing, knitting, and even a little fishing too.

Park Valley Heights has been busy this week planning for weekend visitors. The guests will be former Lincoln residents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Legler and their daughter, Lori, who now reside in Minneapolis, Minn., and their host and hostess will be Mr. and Mrs. John R. White. Football fans from 'way back', the Leglers will attend the Nebraska-Colorado football game with many of their former neighbors on Saturday.

And speaking of football, now's a good time to mention the eightsome who trekked to Lawrence, Kan., for last Saturday's game—Mr. and Mrs. John R. White, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gould, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Herbert and Mr. and Mrs. John Laux.

Weekend Guest Represents Seven-College Conference

An exceedingly charming personality will be a guest in Lincoln during the weekend.

She is Miss Jane Sommers and her visit has nothing to do with football although, we hear, she will attend the game. Miss Sommers, a 1964 graduate of Radcliffe College, is field director of the Seven College Conference program, involving admissions and scholarships, and the Seven College Conference includes Bryn Mawr, Bryn Mawr, Pa.; Barnard College, New York City; Mount Holyoke College, South Hadley, Mass.; Radcliffe College, Cambridge, Mass.; Smith College, Southampton, Mass; Vassar College, Poughkeepsie, N.Y., and Wellesley College, Wellesley, Mass.

Miss Sommer will speak to the interested junior and senior girls in Lincoln's four public high schools, and will tell them of the opportunities offered by the eastern women's colleges that are members of the Conference.

It is especially interesting to note that last year alone the seven colleges made 129 offers of scholarships and loans that totaled $247,935.00. The qualifications for entrance and scholarships also will be discussed.

Here is a practical little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures gives you.

Our miss last week by only 44 points on the outcome of the Nebraska-Kansas game brought a hurried note from Bill Rosenkranz of Washington, Kan.

Enclosing a clipping of the forecast along with a dime, the Kansan suggested, "Here's a dime. You might need a Coke after you eat this."

Rosenkranz also asks, "Wanna trade Penney for Turgeon?" and also encloses a clipping that announced the NU travel squad with his notation, "How was the welcome home?"

First things first: We hope Bill doesn't mind if we spent his dime for a diet Tab rather than a fattening Coke. We doubt that any Nebraska fan would want to trade Penney for Turgeon. And the welcome home was most cordial, we are told.

The Nebraska-Kansas guess wasn't our only forecasting mistake last week, but then when you miss the Huskers by 44 points, how can you expect to do better than 32-17-2 for .647, dropping the season mark to 154-77-6 for .662.

This week:

The Big Eight

COLORADO 22, Nebraska 14 . . . Our heart tells us to pick Nebraska; our head Colorado. If Wilmer Cooks doesn't play, we'd go the other way and even if he does, don't be shocked if NU coach Bob Devaney comes up with another miracle.

OKLAHOMA STATE 7, Kansas 0 . . . The Cowboys won't get caught in the same ambush the Huskers did.

MISSOURI 21, Iowa State 7 . . . The Tigers have only a two-man offense, but that's enough this week.

OKLAHOMA 21, Kansas State 10 . . . Sooners off to good start in the league.

The Top Ten

SOUTHERN CAL 24, Washington 14 . . . If the Trojans are going to be upset, this might be the week.

PURDUE 35, Oregon State 6 . . . A whomping victory for the Big 10.

UCLA 27, Stanford 0 . . . Might be worse.

NORTH CAROLINA STATE 38, Wake Forest 6 . . . Another easy one for a top 10 member.

ALABAMA 22, Tennessee 21 . . . Bear Bryant will go for two and get it.

GEORGIA 24, VMI 0 . . . Aren't the good teams always supposed to come back fighting mad after an upset?

HOUSTON 30, Mississippi State 7 . . . If Warren McVea is healthy.

WYOMING 33, Wichita 6 . . . You don't touch the Cowboys at home.

Opposing tacklers know how hard Colorado's Wilmer Cooks hits into the line when the Buffs are faced with those vital third down and short yardage situations, but CU offensive tackle Mike Montler also knows what it's like.

"I honestly think the biggest jolt I've gotten as a player was once last fall when Wilmer Cooks ran into me from behind when we couldn't get much of a hole opened on a short-yardage play," Montler recalls.

"He got the first down, too," he continues. "Our backs are the kind you like to block for. They don't mind sticking their noses in where it's tough. And they have the speed to break for long gainers when you give them some daylight."

Cooks, a 6-2, 225-pounder, is toughest on those short yardage situations, having picked up first down yardage nine times against Missouri last week from a third or fourth down situation.

With Cooks in the lineup, the Buffs can afford to gamble a bit on the first two downs, knowing that Cooks can pick up the needed third down yardage.

"He's great to have in that backfield," says quarterback Dan Kelly. "He can get you those tough yards. And it's a real help having him out in front on the sweeps.

"He is a good receiver, too. It means a lot to us to have him healthy."

Cooks' health could have a great deal to do with the outcome of Saturday's clash at Memorial Stadium between the Buffs and Nebraska.

The Buffs looked far from impressive without Cooks in whipping Oregon on national TV earlier in the season, but after returning to the lineup, he has helped them to impressive 34-0 and 23-9 wins over Iowa State and Missouri, respectively, the past two weeks.

Cooks has had a history of injury problems and is still listed as doubtful for the Saturday contest, but the knee injury that makes him doubtful was also present last week when he ran for 86 yards in 23 carries against Missouri.

He has had trouble in the past with a bad shoulder and a foot injury. "When I had those, I not only had a bad shoulder, but I couldn't run."

Cooks figures he has to be healthy to be effective, especially in the Big Eight.

"This is a tough conference," he points out. "And you can't play football in the Big Eight with injuries."

The subject of much publicity, including a large spread in Sport Illustrated, has not noticeably affected the big Buffalo.

"I didn't feel any pressure because of the article in Sports Illustrated," he points out. "I appreciated the article, but you have to overlook that when you get on the field.

"Clippings don't help you a helluva lot when you're carrying the football."

And for a fellow, who would prefer to be playing elsewhere, his rushing statistics this year don't indicate that he is unhappy at fullback.

Cooks has carried the ball 36 times for 121 yards, a 3.4 average.

"I prefer playing middle linebacker," he says. "And I think that's what I probably will play as a pro. That's my favorite.

"I never liked fullback until after I had played it a lot."

Many opposing tacklers in the league are wishing he had never gotten acquainted with the ball-carrying duties.

NL MAY ALSO EXPAND

. . . After American League's Lead

Chicago (AP)—The National League will meet within five days to consider expansion to 12 clubs, it was learned Thursday, to match the same move approved for 1969 by the American League Wednesday night.

A week later, both leagues will meet jointly on the overall subject of expansion which has left the National League at the starting gate for the second time. The AL expanded from eight to 10 clubs in 1961, a year ahead of a similar NL move.

At Cincinnati, however, President Warren Giles of the National League said he had not yet called an expansion meeting.

He added that major league expansion "should be done in an orderly fashion" and three years would be a reasonable time to give expansion teams and any "invaded minor league teams" ample time to prepare for the change.

In a marathon session Wednesday, the AL tossed the expansion ball to the NL after carving a rich Northwest [illegible]ge to Seattle and artfully splitting Charles O. Finley's unhappy baseball marriage with Kansas City.

By a 7-3 vote, the AL approved a package deal shifting Finley's Athletics from Kansas City to Oakland, Calif., and awarding new franchises to Seattle and Kansas City for 1969 operation.

Seattle, with a vast TV area potential, is regarded a rich baseball plum which could result in a squabble between the two major leagues.

Even though Seattle has a big hurdle ahead in getting voter approval in February of a proposed $40 million domed stadium, the chagrined National Loop is expected to make a strong pitch for the Pacific Northwest city.

A Seattle delegation which made a successful presentation to the American League Wednesday said in answer to a question of the city's reaction to a National League overture:

"At the present, our interest is in the American League."

Otherwise, the National League's potential new franchises may be plucked from among Dallas-Fort Worth, San Diego and Milwaukee.

Like Milwaukee, Dallas-Fort Worth has long-standing bids for a franchise on file with both the American and National Leagues.

The possibility of four new clubs being tossed onto the major league scene in 1969 will mean setting up hurried machinery for stocking the new clubs with players and complicated playing schedules.

The AL which had only the California Angels on the West Coast, now will have three teams, including Finley's transplanted A's at Oakland and Seattle which is some 600 miles north of San Francisco.

The NL is faced with the prospect of San Diego, it's TV and drawing power somewhat restricted by proximity to Los Angeles, joining the Dodgers and Giants in California and Dallas-Fort Worth moving into the selling territory of the NL's Houston Astros.

American League President Joseph E. Cronin said at his home in Boston that his league has asked Commissioner William D. Eckert to call a joint meeting to deal with its expansion plans.

Cronin said that after the AL meeting Wednesday, in which it was voted to extend to 12 teams as soon as possible but not later than 1971, his office notified both Eckert and Giles of the decision and proposed a joint meeting to discuss it. Cronin said this was the proper procedure according to baseball rules.

The American League still has to approve ownership of the new clubs at Seattle and Kansas City. Wednesday's expansion—approved after four hours of wrangling at approximately 10 p.m., CDT—only concerned new sites.

Bucs Belt Mavericks

By Associated Press

James Jones, a guard with fluid-drive motions, popped in 27 points to pace the New Orleans Bucs to a 120-112 conquest of the Houston Mavericks in the initial American Basketball Association game for both teams.

It was a wild, hectic battle, especially in the waning minutes when the Mavericks hit on three three-point field goals in succession. The shots, taken from 25 feet out, closed the gap and made things look more respectable for the visiting Houston squad.

NWU Harriers Triumph, 23-32

Nebraska Wesleyan's cross country runners ran their dual record to 3-0 Thursday with a 23-32 victory over the South Dakota University Coyotes on the Lincoln East High School course.

Coyote Dave Hefferon headed the pack, clocking 20:41 for the four-mile distance, 1:01 better than runnerup Jim Comstock of Wesleyan. The Plainsmen placed five of the top seven men to gain the victory.

1. Dave Hefferon, SD, 20:41 (four miles); 2. Jim Comstock, NWU, 21:42; 3. Larry Stephens, NWU; 4. John Oliver, SD; 5. Joe Rohack, NWU; 6. Jim Duncan, NWU; 7. Marty Rystrom, NWU; 8. Jim Holbrook, SD; 9. Joe Soucorsos, SD; 10. Jack Hermans, SD.

Kickoff: 7:30 p.m., Friday, Magee Stadium, 53rd and Huntington. Radio—KLIN.

Some people, and you can't blame them, have been wondering if Nebraska Wesleyan would ever play another game at home.

Wonder no more. The Plainsmen will be at friendly Magee Stadium for the first time in over a month when they entertain Missouri Valley Friday night. Naturally it's homecoming.

Kickoff is 7:30 p.m.

"Things are really different," notes Wesleyan coach Ray Westover. "We'll be home and we'll be playing on Friday night."

The Plainsmen, still licking their wounds after two straight lopsided defeats, hope to take to Magee Stadium's turf like ducks to water in an attempt to regain the form that brought them shutout wins in their first three outings.

But the Vikings from Marshall, Mo., their single-wing offense already earning them four wins against one loss, will be anxious to avenge last year's 17-7 defeat at Marshall — the school's only homecoming defeat in coach Volney Ashford's 30-year reign.

Missouri Valley will be without its well-known coach, however. Ashford, a former president of the NAIA, suffered a heart attack before the season.

"Coach Ashford has been a little depressed not being able to coach," says assistant Ed Elliott who has taken over. "Doctors say he's making good progress though."

MIKE KEARNS

"We have a tough time if we can't power over somebody," admits Eliott. "With the sophisticated defenses today we can't outfinesse a team anymore."

Westover is prone to agree.

"They don't try to trick you," says Westy. "They just send a runner out with four men ahead of him and dare you to stop him."

Westover says he may start freshman Tom Young at halfback in place of Rick Shibata, another freshman who has a broken nose. Roger Griffin, freshman middle guard, returns after a week's absence due to a knee injury.

Sophomore Larry Parker is still out with a knee injury, but his replacement at defensive tackle, freshman Mike Kearns, earned plaudits from the coaching staff for his play against Doane.

—NOT MUCH LEFT TO BE DONE—

Light NU Drill Nearly Finishes Preparations

Nebraska Thursday neared its showdown date with Colorado with a brief practice session as head coach Bob Devaney dismissed the squad after a one-hour drill.

"They appeared to be a little tired," Devaney explained. "And they didn't have a lot of snap. We felt maybe by letting them off a little early, it would help.

"We've done about everything we can to get ready for Colorado."

The Huskers will hold a light workout this afternoon, then retire to the Nebraska Center for the evening.

Colorado is due in Lincoln by Frontier charter at 2 p.m. and also will conduct a light drill at Memorial Stadium.

2nd In Defense

Nebraska ranks second in total defense among the nation's major colleges, according to the National Collegiate Sports Services.

The Huskers have allowed only 158.8 yards per game and trail only Tulsa with a 120.0 mark in total defense.

NU ranks fourth in rushing defense, allowing 57.3 yards per game while Syracuse leads with a 32.5 figure.

Oklahoma State ranks fourth in pass defense, giving up 68.3 yards per game and Kansas State is fourth in punting with a 44.1 yard average.

Oklahoma is No. 1 in defense against scoring with only nine points being scored against the Sooners in three games. Colorado is tied for sixth, giving up 7.3 points per outing.

Huskers' Tatman On Waiver List

Minneapolis-St. Paul (AP)—The Minnesota Vikings activated running back Jim Lindsey, who has been out with an injury, and placed rookie fullback Pete Tatman of Nebraska on waivers to make room for him Thursday.

It is expected that Tatman will rejoin the National Football League club's taxi squad, where he was when Lindsey got hurt.

Pius Reserves Win

Lincoln Pius X reserves blanked the Lincoln East reserves Thursday night, 12-0, as left half Dennis Shibita tallied both touchdowns in the second quarter, capping a 60-yard drive with a one-foot plunge and then scoring on a 25-yard end sweep.

Jazz Featured

Jazz, from the Dixieland Band to the Big Band, will be the theme for the second appearance of the Nebraska Cornhusker Marching Band when the Huskers play Colorado Saturday.

Sharing the halftime with the Colorado Band, the 180-piece Nebraska Band will present a history of jazz.

The music will be familiar jazz classics and will include Birth of the Blues, St. Louis Blues, Chicago, Rhapsody in Blue, Let's Dance, One O'Clock Jump, Two O'Clock Jump, Boogie Blues, Intermission Riff, and Way Down Younder in New Orleans.

Bowl Scouts Here

Representatives from the Orange Bowl in Miami and the Sugar Bowl in New Orleans will be on hand for Saturday's game.

Silas Lifts St. Louis

By Associated Press

Paul Silas scored five points in the closing minutes as the St. Louis Hawks broke from an 89-89 tie to whip Los Angeles 100-95 in a National Basketball Association game Thursday night.

Second year man Dick Snyder led the Hawk attack with 22 points while veteran Joe Caldwell added 19. However, the Lakers' Elgin Baylor topped all scorers with 25 points.

The victory was the fourth straight for St. Louis in the young NBA season.

The San Francisco Warriors, paced by the second-half shooting of Fred Hetzel and Rudy LaRusso, scored a 116-106 victory over the winless Chicago Bulls in a ragged but roughly played NBA contest.

The win was the second against three losses for the Warriors while the Bulls suffered their third straight setback.

Nebraska Frosh Test Air-Minded K-Staters

Host Kansas State will come out throwing as they provide the opposition for the Cornhusker yearlings' first start. Kickoff time is 2:30 p.m.

The K-State frosh, labeled the best in the school's history, have one game under their belts already, having lost at Missouri, 12-7, a week ago.

They were hurt by penalties (122 yards) in their debut on the road, but showed great ability to move the football through the air.

Lynn Dickey, termed "the best drop back passer I've ever seen in high school" by K-State head coach Vince Gibson, lived up to advance billing by completing 11 of 23 passes for 178 yards at Missouri.

Monte Kiffin, who plots the defensive strategy for the Husker frosh, watched that game and labels K-State as "a strong team."

The Nebraska freshmen are not quite as big overall as some of the recent crops, but are given the "they come to play" label by Fischer.

Dan Malone, a 6-2, 243-pound defensive tackle from Longview, Tex., will be the biggest Nebraska starter. In the offensive line Lincoln Northeast product Wally Winter, now checking in at 6-4 and 236, is the heaviest starter.

Winter will be flanked by West Point's Roger Poledna at right guard and Omaha Westside's Guy Ingles at split end. Ingles' prep teammate, Ron Volberding, starts at the opposite tackle.

CLETE FISCHER

The starting backfield represents four midwest states. Quarterback Rick Wenner hails from Detroit, fullback Bill Brown from Wheaton, Ill., and halfbacks Dan Schneiss and Paul Rogers are from West Bend, Wis., and Rock Rapids, Iowa, respectively.

The Cornhuskers will also open with four home state defenders. Bob Hardt of Omaha Westside and Chuck Haskell of Laurel man the end spots, Bellevue's John Hopkins plays one of the tackle positions and Omaha North's Jerry Murtaugh will start at linebacker.

Big Eight Reprimands KU For Premature Signings

Kansas City (AP)—The Big Eight Conference reprimanded Pepper Rodgers, Kansas football coach, and an assistant coach, John Cooper, Thursday for violating conference rules by signing three prospective athletes to interconference letters of intent two days before the signing date.

The conference faculty representatives denied Cooper the privilege of contacting any prospects for one year. The league also directed Kansas to take action to prevent an unnamed representative of athletic interests involved in the matter from taking part in any recruiting activity for one year.

In addition, the total number of Kansas football grants for 1968-69 will be limited to 35. The normal figure is 45.

The conference faculty men formally commended the Kansas administration for its cooperation in the matter, although the two coaches also were reprimanded for failure to help at the outset.

Wayne Duke, Big Eight commissioner, said Chancellor W. Clarke Wescoe of Kansas in early summer received an allegation of rules violation from another Big Eight school.

After conferring with athletic staff members, the chancellor asked the commissioner to investigate.

Duke said the three student athletes involved are from Atlanta. He declined to give their names but said none of the three is currently enrolled at any Big Eight school. Duke said the signing date was May 17 and the prospects were signed May 15.

The commissioner said one of the three didn't qualify for a scholarship under the 1.6 rule. Another later signed an interconference letter of intent with another school and the third enrolled at another school.

Duke said he conducted a series of 67 interviews, 31 personal and 36 by telephone with 25 different individuals. The commissioner said he also had the benefit of a series of interviews submitted by the Kansas administration.

This is the first enforcement case since the enforcement rules were adopted by the Big Eight in August, 1964.

Duke said Rodgers was not involved in the actual signing of the three athletes, which was done by Cooper and the representative of athletic interests.

In other action at their regular fall quarterly meeting, the faculty men approved an audit of year-end accounts showing an income of $948,175, of which $818,200 was distributed to member schools; reaffirmed their previous position against participation of freshmen in spring sports; disclosed that 34 stations, 12 more than last year, from nine states will be in the Big Eight 10-game basketball television series and discussed a joint meeting early next year of school presidents and faculty representatives concerning enforcement policies, finances, and philosophy of athletics.

The faculty group also voted to submit legislation to the NCAA convention Jan. 8-10 in New York on certain undesirable trends in recruiting if such legislation is submitted by another body. The trends include contacting high school juniors and the hiding out of prospects at signing time.

Here's an oddity about the University of Miami of Florida . . . Did you know the school is really NOT in Miami! . . . The University of Miami is actually located in the city of Coral Gables, Fla., some seven miles southwest of Miami!

What's the farthest a man can throw a football? . . . There's no official record but most experts say that under game conditions the farthest a pro quarterback can throw the ball in the air is about 70 yards . . . But in practice sessions, without any linemen charging and with plenty of time to get set, some passers in football history such as Jack Kemp and Kenny Washington have been reported as being able to throw more than 80 yards . . . And some players say quarterback Rudy Bukich once threw a ball 100 yards in the air.

Big 8 Grid Workouts

Missouri

Columbia, Mo. (AP)—Missouri got a lift Thursday for its upcoming football game with Iowa State at Ames when physicians gave clearance for Roger Wehrli, the Tigers' only lettered defensive back, to see limited duty.

Wehrli hasn't played since Missouri's season-opening 21-0 victory over Southern Methodist. The following week he was hospitalized with a digestive ailment which was later diagnosed as an ulcer.

Iowa State

Ames, Iowa (AP)—Iowa State wound up practice Thursday for Saturday's Big Eight homecoming football game with Missouri.

The Cyclones hustled through a 75-minute drill, going over game plans. The first offensive and defensive units held dummy scrimmages against the reserves, who ran Missouri plays.

Colorado

Boulder, Colo. (AP) — The bruised knee of fullback Wilmer Cooks is still a question mark as the Colorado Buffaloes prepare for Saturday's game against Nebraska at Lincoln.

Cooks suited up Thursday for practice and worked on timing and execution of plays with the first squad but avoided any contact.

Colorado leaves Friday morning for Nebraska and coach Eddie Crowder said he plans a workout in Lincoln Friday afternoon.

Kansas State

Manhattan, Kan. (AP)—Coach Vince Gibson made some last-minute lineup changes Thursday as Kansas State topped off preparations for its homecoming game against Oklahoma.

John Watkins took over at left guard. Marty Allen and Al Walczak, who had been switched early in the week, were switched again. Allen wound up at right tackle, Walczak and Ced Rice will alternate any right guard.

Oklahoma State

Stillwater, Okla. (AP)—Oklahoma State University's Cowboys worked out in sweat clothes 45 minutes Thursday, and coach Phil Cutchin said he feels "like our players are anxious to go."

Cutchin pointed out that the Cowboys have played only one football game in the past four weeks.

OSU will host Kansas in a homecoming game Saturday. More than 35,000 are expected to watch the game

Oklahoma

Norman, Okla. (AP) — The University of Oklahoma Sooners held a non-contact drill Thursday in preparation for a Saturday football game with Kansas State.

Fairbanks said all of his players are well again. Four Sooners, including star tailback Steve Owens, had been hospitalized Wednesday with a virus.

Kansas

Lawrence, Kan. (AP)—Coach Pepper Rodgers said Thursday he though the Kansas offensive unit showed some improvement in practice, while the defense has had a couple of good days.

The Oklahoma State game this week, he said, "should be just as hard as last week's game with Nebraska. I hope the team is more confident. That's not saying I am."

Rodgers said Grant Dahl, defensive tackle, will not play again this season. Dahl hurt a knee in pre-season practice, and will have to have an operation, Rodgers said.

—LONG JUMP—

Russian Ties World Record

The 29-year-old Russian, a former world record holder, cleared 27-4 on his first attempt before he equalled Boston's mark, set on May 29, 1965 at Modesto, Calif.

Olympic champion Lynn Davies of Wales was second at 26-8 and Jacques Pani of France third at 26-4¼.

Boston did not compete against his arch-rival in the meet designed to test the athletes against Mexico's 1½-mile altitude.

"I was very disappointed Boston did not come," Ter-Ovanesyan said.

Earlier Mohamed Gammoudi of Tunisia became the first double winner in track and field at the Pre-Olympics when he won the 5,000 meter run in a stirring finish.

Gammoudi, winner of the 10,000 earlier in the meet, won by a few feet over West Germany's Manfred Letzerich and Mexico's Juan Martinez.

The Tunisian was clocked in 14:41, much slower than the listed world record of 13:24.2 held by Kipchoge Keino of Kenya.

Letzerich, the silver medalist, and Martinez, were clocked in the same time of 14.43. There were no Americans entered.

Vera Nilolic of Yugoslavia closed with a terrific burst in the final turn to capture the women's 800 meter run by 10 meters over Charlotte Cooke of Washington, D.C., the winner of the 400.

Erica Laine of the Soviet Union was third.

The winning time was announced as 2:05.3.

Miss Cooke was timed in 2:07.5 and Miss Laine in 2:08.4. Doris Brown of Seattle was sixth in 2:09.6 and Canada's Abby Hoffman eighth in 2:12.4.

Bodo Tummler of West Germany captured the 1,500 meter run in 3:46.4, far slower than the world record, with Russia's Oleg Raiko second in 3:46.8 and Italy's Renzo Finelli third in 3:48.4.

Hunting Clock

Shooting hours for deer, turkey, and antelope are one-half hour before sunrise to one-half hour after sunset. Hours for the early teal season, rails, and snipe are sunrise to sunset. Quail hours are one-half hour before sunrise to one-half hour before sunset. All other game may be taken from one-half hour before sunrise to sunset.

The following applies to any point in Nebraska that is due north or due south of each of the cities and towns. For each 13 miles west of any designated city add one minute, and for each 13 miles east subtract one minute. Valentine and Scottsbluff schedules are Mountain Daylight Time. All others are Central Daylight Time. Hunters should set their watches according to the time zone in which they are hunting.

Three Schools Leave Ak-Sar-Ben Prep Loop

... NEW CONFERENCE COMING

Enrollment fluctuation in the Ak-Sar-Ben Conference has prompted three schools to drop out and promote the formation of a new league which could begin operation next school year.

Ashland, Waverly and Wahoo have resigned their positions in the Ak-Sar-Ben, effective at the end of this year.

The original plan was to put the less-populated schools into one division of the Ak-Sar-Ben, the more populous in the other.

But this necessitated excessive travel, Waverly principal Dick Hagemoser said, "so we decided to line up something along the Interstate.

"We more or less got the ball rolling," Hagemoser said. "We asked Wahoo and Ashland in view of what was happening in the Ak-Sar-Ben Conference."

What is happening is increasing enrollments at schools like Ralston (which advanced from the Class B to Class A this year), Papillion, Millard and Plattsmouth, which have brought unfavorable balance.

"Some of them dropped Ashland from their schedules to play schools they should be playing (in Class A) like Columbus and Norfolk," Hagemoser said. "We decided that we should reorganize by size (in the Ak-Sar-Ben)."

But since the smaller schools dislike travel as far as Falls City if conference alignment was to be based on population instead of geography, Hagemoser said, there was an increasing desire to formulate an altogether new conference.

Hagemoser contacted schools he felt would have similar boy enrollments and that are located along the Interstate within easy traveling distance of one another.

After comparison of five-year enrollment projections, the ten schools decided to split the conference into Class B and a Class C divisions, playing one another in all sports but football.

The Class B schools (1967 enrollments in parenthesis): Ashland (144), Centennial (148), Hickman Norris (125), Wahoo (176) and Waverly (147). The Class C division would include: Arlington (96), Gretna (96), Central (95), Elkhorn (88) and Platteview (106).

A committee headed by Dr. Ivan Ward of Wahoo is drafting a constitution which will probably be put up for the entire conference's approval in about a month, Hagemoser said.

"We will be 100% effective in 1969-70," Hagemoser said, "but we may be able to work out schedules; We may be able to make enough switches to get it done for next year."

The conference will still hold its basketball tournament and other meets even if a full conference schedule cannot be arranged.

(Schools normally sign two-year, home-and-home contracts with opponents, but, Hagemoser said, some of them could be voided.)

Twins' Catcher Pleads Guilty To Tax Charge

Minneapolis, Minn. (AP) — Minnesota Twins catcher Earl Battey Jr. pleaded guilty Thursday to one of three counts of having failed to file a federal income tax return.

Federal Judge Earl Larson referred the case to federal probation authorities and set Dec. 15 for sentencing. Battey requested the delay, saying he would be in New York.

Battey, 32, of St. Paul, pleaded guilty to a charge of failing to file a return for the year 1964. U.S. District Attorney Patrick Foley said the ballplayer's income was $39,000 that year. Maximum penalty is one year in prison and a $10,000 fine.

Foley said he would ask the court to dismiss two other counts accusing Battey of having failed to file in 1962, when he reportedly had an income of $28,378, and in 1963, when it was listed as $32,931.

Knights, East Seek Answers In Clash Tonight

By RICK AKIN
Prep Sports Writer

All hasn't been glossy at East and Southeast this football fall. Their coaches —East's Lee Zentic and Southeast's Bill Stephenson —are tangling with a couple of mysteries.

Mysteries or not, the Knights are favored over the Spartans in Seacrest Field Friday night. Kickoff is at 7:30 p.m.

"I got out some films from last year and also looked at the ones from this year," Stephenson said. "We've got the same kids but this year we're not hitting anybody at all. I think things are better now. We just have to bring things together."

Things fell apart against Lincoln High last week. The Knights fell, 28-0 — a margin not anticipated but true partly because of the Links' vitality.

The two weeks before Southeast lost to fourth-ranked Fremont and to No. 2 Bellevue. Lincoln High is sixth, making it a tough threesome for Stephenson. Southeast's record is 3-3.

Five-time loser East has had a split personality.

"We've just been able to play one half a football game," Zentic says. "Against Columbus we played pretty good in the second half but the first half was one of our poorest."

One half slacks have hurt three times now. Columbus led 26-0 after the first half but lost the second, 7-6. Council Bluffs Abraham Lincoln ran to a 14-0 first quarter lead in a 20-7 victory but lost the second half, 7-6.

East scared Lincoln High, which carried a 6-0 lead into the dressing room but fired up for 48 points in the second half.

"We've also had trouble when we get near the goal line," Zentic said. "It's been mistakes . . . dropped passes, missing the receiver, offsides penalties. Against Columbus we ran a punt back to their seven-yard line but couldn't score. We've stopped ourselves.

"But we haven't lost our enthusiasm. We're not discouraged over the loss," Zentic said.

Elsewhere Friday night Pius X hosts Fairbury in an 8 p.m. kickoff at Pius X Stadium.

Fairbury, the only Class B team on the Thunderbolts' schedule, has only beaten Falls City, 6-0, and tied Nebraska City, 6-6. Nebraska City hasn't won this fall, and Falls City has nipped Waverly and Norris.

Pius played a strong three quarters last week until finally succumbing to a 26-point second half by Boys Town to lose, 39-6.

Northeast, which made a strong showing while drubbing Hastings, 33-7, last week, travels to Grand Island, the state's fifth-ranked team showing mounting momentum.

Lincoln High (5-1), trailing the Islanders by a half-game for the Trans-Nebraska Conference championship, must defeat North Platte Saturday night in Seacrest to stay in it.

A feisty bunch, the Platters lost to Grand Island, 6-0, and to Southeast in the season-opener, 13-12, but rammed across four touchdowns three times and three once for four victories.

The Links made their most impressive showing of the season last week in keeping Southeast in back of their 30-yard line and totalling 360 offensive yards.

Chance Named Top Comeback

New York (AP)—Dean Chance of the Minnesota Twins, who rebounded from his worst big league season in 1966 to win 20 games including a no-hitter, was named the American League's Comeback Player of the year for 1967 Thursday.

The right-handed pitcher drew 156 votes in the balloting by 355 baseball writers and broadcasters in the annual Associated Press poll.

Outfielder Bob Allison, also of Minnesota, was second with 59 votes. First baseman Mickey Mantle of the New York Yankees placed third with 38 votes followed by outfielder Carl Yastrzemski of Boston, 26, and catcher Bill Freehan of Detroit, 24.

Chance, obtained from the California Angels in a four-player trade last winter, posted a 20-14 record for the Twins. He had a 2.20 earned run average, struck out 220 batters and walked only 67.

His no-hitter was achieved against Cleveland on Aug. 25. Included among his other victories was a five-inning no-hitter against Boston on Aug. 5. The game was called because of rain.

Chance starred for the Angels in 1964 when he won 20 games and topped the AL in ERA with 1.65. He had a 15-10 won-lost mark the following year and then slumped to 12-17 in 1966.

Allison hit 24 homers, drove in 75 runs and hit .258 the past season, his best performance since 1964 when he walloped 32 homers and accumulated 86 RBI. Hampered by injuries in 1966, he batted only .220 in 70 games with eight homers and 19 RBI.

Proper Tax Balance Unresolved--Tiemann

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

Holdrege — Gov. Norbert Tiemann Thursday night told 300 Nebraskans that the proper balance between state reliance on sales tax revenue and income tax revenue is unresolved.

"The rates are up for argument," Tiemann told an overflow crowd at his third town hall meeting.

"You could probably argue all night on what are balanced rates."

Came First

First reliance had to rest on the sales tax, he said, because it was the revenue system which could be implemented first.

But a combination tax with balanced rates is needed to provide an equitable revenue system, Tiemann emphasized.

The governor told questioners that increased salaries and enlarged staff represent the major items which contributed to a 95% increase in his budget for the governor's office

Tiemann said he wanted a beefed up staff capable of being "a meaningful part" of the legislative process.

And it has worked, Tiemann said.

The governor pointed to the key role played by his executive assistant Clayton Yeutter, in hammering together compromised agreements which helped produce sufficient votes to pass state aid to education and establish a state telecommunications system.

Asked if he was "trying to outdo LBJ" in taxation and spending, Tiemann responded: "Nobody can outdo LBJ."

Openly Friendly

The governor's Platte Valley response was openly friendly, and he was subjected to the greatest variety of inquires he has encountered at any of this week's town hall meetings.

Tiemann told his listerers:

—he probably favors a liberalized abortion law, but that opinion is strictly "off the cuff" and would depend on the contents of the legislation.

—capital punishment should not be abolished until pardon and parole laws are changed to protect the public from future dangers.

—he and Sen. Roman Hruska are "getting along just fine."

—the University of Nebraska budget increase was fully justified and necessary.

Election Spending

—he spent $70,000 in his 1966 primary election campaign and $65,000 in the general election, the largest contribution amounting to $500 and the smallest being a 25 cent offering from his 7-year-old daughter, Amy.

—he will recommend some changes in sale tax exemptions, including an exemption in the sale of high school annuals.

—the sales tax was applied against groceries but taxes paid for food will be returned, in part, to tax payers in the form of food tax credits applied against income liabilities.

Open Housing

—he will sponsor an open housing bill in the 1969 Legislature.

—he expects Kearney State College to gain university status soon.

—he doubts that the sale of liquor in Nebraska will be legalized for persons between the ages of 18 and 21.

For the third time in the town hall sessions, Tiemann defended the proposed merger of the University of Omaha with NU in response to critical questioning.

How Come

Asked why he skipped the seaborne National Governors' Conference, Tiemann said "he would rather be in Holdrege."

There are 25 Republican governors aboard the luxury liner sailing to the Virgin Islands, Tiemann noted.

"Half of them want to be president, and the other half want to be vice president.

"It is no place for a beginner."

State Sees No Recourse In Sale Of Hastings Depot

State officials said Thursday they have no legal recourse against the City of Hastings over the controversial sale of land at the old naval ammunition depot there.

But State Sen. Eric Rasmussen of Fairmont and Deputy State Game Commission Director Willard Barbee said they still believe the transaction was improper.

Their comments came after Hastings Mayor Herbert Hodge labeled as "absurd" the state's claim that the sale involved collusion.

The controversy involves the sale by the city of 4,497 acres at the depot to three private corporations only hours after the city had acquired the land from the federal government.

The Game Commission wanted part of the property for public hunting and wildlife management purposes. Picnic and camping facilities were also planned.

Both the city and the state applied to the General Services Administration for the land, with the city's bid being accepted.

Rasmussen, who sponsored a 1967 law prohibiting cities from acquiring certain farm lands for non-tax purposes, said he agrees with the commission that the transaction was contrary to the intent of the Legislature.

Hodge said that originally the city did not intend to act as an intermediary in the land transaction but the federal government said the property could not be sold directly to private corporations.

"The purchase of the land was for the public good and betterment of the community —and there's nothing in the law against that," the Mayor said.

Dobson Brothers Construction Co. Sued In Accident

A $150,000 suit has been filed against Dobson Brothers Construction Co. in Lancaster County District Court for injuries sustained by David M. Gorges, 14, when he fell into a hole allegedly dug by the firm for a water main three years ago.

The suit, filed by the boy's father, Fred M. Gorges, 390 Bruce Dr., seeks damages for permanent injuries and disability.

The father also filed a $10,626 damage suit against Dobson Brothers for medical expenses and compensation because he was "deprived services of his son."

According to the petition, the firm was engaged in construction of a water main in front of the Gorges residence when the boy, riding a lawnmower, fell into the hole.

The suit alleges that the company was negligent in failing to furnish and maintain "good and sufficient barricades," signs, adequate covering and in allowing the hole to remain open "for a longer period of time than was reasonably necessary to complete the work."

Ducks Picket White House

Washington (UPI) — As if the White House didn't have enough trouble with hawks and doves these days, the Johnson administration was picketed by ducks Thursday.

Nine housewives from Riverhead, on New York's Long Island, paraded nine ducks on leashes fashioned from red, white and blue ribbons.

The ladies were protesting the proposed atomic reactor to be put in use at the Shoreham project by the Long Island Electric Lighting Co., at Riverhead.

"We don't want our Long Island ducks radioactivated," the women's group said. They carried signs saying "Down With Atomic Quackery."

The women represented a Long Island chapter of a group known as "The Fact Finders," which opposes use of civilian atomic reactors as a threat to health and safety.

Queen Visits Rome

Athens (AP) —The Greeks learned this week from photos in Italian newspapers on Athens newstands that their Queen Anne-Marie had been to Rome for a brief visit with her parents, King Frederik and Queen Ingrid of Denmark. The young queen is not permitted by the Athens military regime to go home to Denmark because of that country's hositlity toward leaders of the April 21 Greek army coup. Athens papers planning to use photos of the Rome visit were told not to by Athens censors.

Guatemalan Wins Nobel In Literature

Stockholm, Sweden (AP)—Guatemalan writer Miguel Angel Asturias was honored on his 68th birthday Thursday with the 1967 Nobel Prize in literature for his epic novels about the troubles of the poor in his country.

Asturias, now Guatemala's ambassador to France, was a winner last year of a Lenin Peace Prize from the Soviet Union. He is the first Nobel literature laureate from Latin America since Chilean poetess Gabriela Mistral in 1945.

The Swedish Academy of Letters said the $62,000 prize went to Asturias for "his highly colored writings rooted in a national individuality and Indian traditions."

Assailed United Fruit

Asturias has spoken out strongly against dictatorial oppression of Guatemala's native population, and one of his major works assails the U.S.-controlled United Fruit Co., holding that it dominates the banana-producing Central American republic.

Russia, in awarding Asturias the Lenin Prize, cited him for works that "expose the American intervention against the Guatemalan people."

Often out of favor with Guatemalan authorities, Asturias spent many years in exile in Argentina, Italy and France. After a change in regimes in his country he returned as ambassador to Paris, where years before he had been educated at the Sorbonne.

Asked in Paris what he would do with his prize, Asturias said he intends "to write, to edit, to continue my work." After completing his ambassadorial term, he said, "I want to consecrate myself exclusively to writing."

Asturias' debut as a novelist came in 1946 with "El Senor Presidente," a study of a Latin- American dictator. "Hombres de Maiz"—Men of Corn—in 1949 described the life of poor Indians.

He took up his battle against the United Fruit Co. in 1950 with the epic trilogy containing the novels "Viento Fuerte"—Strong Wind — "El Papa Verde"—The Green Pope—and "Los Ojos de los Enterrados"—The Eyes of the Dead.

Maoists Win A Hand In Sinkiang

By JOHN RODERICK

Tokyo (AP) — Reports reaching Tokyo Thursday indicate that supporters of Chairman Mao Tse-tung have won the upper hand in important Sinkiang Province, the area bordering on the Soviet Union and the site of Red China's nuclear testing installations.

These reports suggested that Wang En-mao, once considered in opposition to the current Peking leadership in the cultural revolution upheaval, has recanted and been demoted, and now is on the Maoist team.

Wang once was described as Mao's chief enemy in the autonomous Singkiang Uighur region, which is more than twice the size of Texas.

The assessment seemed borne out by belated broadcast accounts of Oct. 1 celebrations of the Chinese Communist Party's National Day in Urumchi, capital of the region.

Wang, who had been military district commander in the region, was listed among those present though not identified under his old titie. He was included among "responsible persons" in the military district, production and construction corps.

China is divided into 12 military regions, with subsidiary military districts.

Another broadcast listed Kuo Ping as the "responsible person of the Sinkiang military region," and this could mean that Kuo, a relatively unknown figure, could be Wang's replacement as commander.

Demos Renew Demand For Probe Of Cornelius

By Associated Press

The Democrats renewed their call Thursday for an investigation and possible dismissal of State Technical Assistance Director Sam Cornelius for alleged violation of the Hatch Act.

In a letter to Gov. Norbert T. Tiemann, Hess Dyas, administrative assistant to the Nebraska Democratic Party, said he would like to know what the governor's position is on the matter.

"Do you still feel Mr. Cornelius' political activity has not been in violation of the Hatch Act?" Dyas asked in the letter.

"In a letter to you dated Oct. 10, I called for the dismissal of Sam Cornelius because of his violation of the Hatch Act," Dyas wrote the governor, a Republican.

Dyas continued: "I ended that letter by stating that I felt this illegal political activity deserved further investigation by your office."

He said, "A concerned investigation by your office in the beginning, instead of name calling and denials, would have helped me believe you are really interested in running a businesslike administration."

Dyas told the governor that his administration had responded to his first letter by "issuing a name-calling smoke screen."

"You tried to brand me a bigot and a jealous job seeker," Dyas declared.

"You perosnally stated that Mr. Cornelius had violated no law, but in our meeting in your office Oct. 11 you admitted to me you didn't really know much about the Hatch Act," Dyas asserted.

The Democrat pointed out that Cornelius has resigned his position with the Douglas County Republican Central Committee and that Cornelius' name was replaced with Mrs. Sam Cornelius on the Nixon-for-President Committee.

"Why were these actions necessary if no law was being violated?"

The Hatch Act prohibits federal employes or employes of state agencies receiving federal funds from being politically active.

Cornelius declined to reply to the Dyas letter, saying he was going to wait and see what the designated authorities desired.

North Vietnamese Claim Rusk Proposals 'Deception'

© New York Times Service

Washington — North Vietnam has rejected as "sheer deception" proposals for ending the Vietnam war announced by Secretary of State Dean Rusk at a news conference Oct. 12.

Rusk cited an offer President Johnson made on Sept. 29 to "stop all aerial and naval bombardment" of North Vietnam when this would lead "promptly to productive discussions" and provided it would not involve North Vietnam's taking "advantage" of the bombing cessation or limitation.

An editorial, in Nhan Dan, official voice of the Hanoi government, broadcast Thursday, said that "everyone has seen that these proposals are but sheer deception."

The "answer is simple" the editorial said, as to why the proposals have been rebuffed —the failure of the United States to withdraw all its troops from South Vietnam.

"Having realized that the root of the war in Vietnam is U.S. aggression," the editorial said, "the world people, including the Americans, have urged that the root be pulled out."

United States specialists on Vietnam pointed out that Hanoi's latest reaction was "predictable" in that it maintained the Communist regime's public posture of total intransigence.

"For the last year or more each U.S. public policy position on Vietnam has been a little more conciliatory," one source pointed out, "but Hanoi has remained absolutely unyielding."

Damages Sought In Car-Bus Crash

Mrs. Lois E. Kendall of 5133 Pioneers Blvd. has filed a $15,000 damage suit in Lancaster County District Court against Dale L. Blythe and his minor son Timothy D. Blythe of 5726 Saylor.

She is seeking compensation for medical expenses and lost wages resulting from injuries received in an accident last January while she was a passenger on a Lincoln bus.

The bus, traveling south on Sheridan near the 27th Street intersection, collided with an auto, driven by Timothy, going north on 27th Street.

In her petition, Mrs. Kendall alleges that negligent acts of Timothy Blythe were responsible for the accident.

DELINQUENCY HEARING OPENS

Milk Given Credit For 'Long Life'

"Milk could well be the reason that many people live long lives," said Dr. Khem Shahani, professor of dairy science at the University of Nebraska, at a Thursday evening dinner here for the Dairy Fieldmen's Conference.

Dr. Shahani said that even though many Asian countries have a lower life expectancy than the U.S. due to many deaths in infancy, those that live after childhood often outlive many Americans.

"The reason," said Dr. Shahani, "is that in impovrished areas, people often live on milk and milk products alone.

The proteins and carbohydrates contained in whole milk are beneficial to a person's health, he said, indicating that a vast intake would naturally allow the body to build up its resistance to ailments that sometimes prove fatal.

"Milk in today's world, has one additive, Vitamin D, which is added because milk is lacking in just this one area."

Dr. Shahani told the conference that the public was not consuming the amount of milk or milk products that it should and advised the conference to "face up to the public and tell them what they're missing."

Subcommittee Okays 5 Monday Holidays

Washington (AP) — A bill that would establish five national holidays on Mondays was approved Thursday by a House judiciary subcommittee.

The measure would apply to Washington's Birthday, Memorial Day, Independence Day, Veterans Day and Thanksgiving, and would take effect in 1970. The idea is to provide more three-day weekends.

Cushing Postmark Making Its Last Appearance Friday

Cushing (AP)—The Cushing, Neb., postmark will make its last appearance Friday with the closing of the village's post office.

The Cushing postal operations, which began in 1884, will be absorbed into the St. Paul Post Office. St. Paul Postmaster C. J. Suchanek, who will close out the Cushing operations, said the 30 Cushing postal patrons will get their mail on a rural route delivery from St. Paul.

The lack of business was given as the reason for the closing, with only 15 Cushing residents maintaining postal boxes.

Mrs. Hulda Anderson, Cushing's 76-year-old postmistress, will finally get her chance to retire. She has been eligible for several years, but no one was interested in the job.

Earlier this year the Cushing schools merged with the St. Paul school system.

Drunken Walker Fined

Rockford, Ill (AP)—If you're too drunk to drive home from where you've been, what do you do?

Leon Chaney, 51, decided to walk after the man he asked to drive him home ran his car into a ditch earlier this week.

Chaney told Magistrate Robert G. Coplan Thursday that after his car stalled in the ditch "I started walking and was arrested."

"It was just a road though," Chaney said. "It was no highway."

Coplan fined Chaney $10 and said:

"They really had you coming and going. You couldn't drive because you were drunk, and they arrested you for walking when you were drunk. I guess the only thing you could have done was sit down."

Thieves Get Furs, Diamonds In Daylight Strike On House

A Wednesday afternoon burglary netted mink and ermine furs and diamonds reportedly worth many thousands of dollars from a Lincoln home, police revealed Thursday.

Local authorities said that the daylight burglary occured at the William T. Edwards home at 5555 A. The thieves apparently gained entrance to the home by prying open sliding glass doors at the rear of the house.

Once in the house, the thieves broke into a safe located in the den and ransacked the bedrooms, police said.

Authorities speculated that the stolen goods were carried out of the house in one of Edwards' own suitcases.

Britain Makes Bank Rate 6%

© New York Times Service

London—Rising interest rates in the United States forced the Bank of England Thursday into a defensive increase in the British bank rate to 6%, up from 5.5%.

Many thought the increase in the basic cost of money was small enough to avoid choking any economic upturn that might be developing. The intent of the change was to prevent the outflow of money arising from higher interest rates elsewhere.

NU-CU Film Planned

Profit Taking Curbs Stock Mart Rally

New York (AP) — A vigorous early rally Thursday was eroded by hours of profit taking and the result was another mixed market. Trading was active.

Volume was 11.63 million compared with 10.51 million shares Wednesday.

The Dow Jones industrial average, which was up .694 in late morning, ended with a gain of only .23 at 903.72.

In early trading gains outnumbered losses by a margin of better than 2 to 1. By the close, however, there were among the 1,482 issues traded on the New York Stock Exchange. New highs for the year totaled 55 and new lows 58.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks ended with a loss of .1 at 325.6 with industrials off .7, rails up .5 and utilities off .3 to another low for the year. The utilities continued to respond to the competition of high yields from bonds.

Seven of the 15 most active stocks rose, six fell and two were unchanged.

SCM Corp., reporting lower quarterly income, was the most active stock as it fell 1½ to 49⅝ on 323,000 shares. A single block of 213,400 shares boosted SCM toward the top of the list.

Pan American World Airways up ¼ at 25½, was fourth most active thanks considerably to a single transaction of 134,800 shares.

Also active, Holly Sugar rose 1 and Pan American Sulphur 3 while United Air Lines fell 1¾.

Boeing rose 1¾ following news that it had received an order for $445 million in jet planes from Trans World Airlines. TWA advanced 2¼.

Xerox reported record quarterly earnings and was up several points in early dealings. It settled for a net gain of 1¼ at 283¾. Studebaker rose 2¾ on higher earnings.

IBM gained 6½. Goodyear 1, General Foods 2, Westinghouse Electric 1 and U.S. Gypsum 1¼.

Prices were mixed on the American Stock Exchange.

EVERYBODY'S MONEY:

Ignorance Is No Excuse For Erroneous Statements

By Merryle S. Rukeyser

MERRYLE RUKEYSER
Reader's Obligation

Just as in business the customer is the boss, so in journalism the reader ranks foremost.

Be that as it may, this does not mean — as E. M. Statler, the hotel tycoon, said —that "the customer is always right." Even the fellow in the driver's seat has an obligation to adhere to standards.

A physician reader in Winter Park, Fla. takes this writer to task regarding mutual funds. If the reader was brainwashed by stock peddlers, ignorance of the laws of life is no escuse for misstatements.

He writes: "In your column you continually boost the no load funds and by implication downgrade the 'open end' funds."

In a single stence, the reader has made at least three material errors.

Nothing Boosted

First, this column, with nothing for sale, is written to guide readers. Accordingly, nothing is boosted. This column alerts readers to under publicized financial services including "no load" funds, common trust funds, living trusts, annuities, and old issues, including closed-end investment companies which are quoted at a discount below book value.

Secondly, the "no load" funds are identical to other "open end" funds except in the lack of an entrance fee.

Thirdly, this writer does not downgrade other "open end" funds with a load by implication or otherwise. The absence of the "load" is of pivotal significance only when all other factors, especially the quality of portfolio management, are equal. The column has disclosed that some aggressively managed "open end" funds with a load quickly offset the load. Once the entry fee has been paid, there is no sense in switching.

Dangerous Thing

A little knowledge is a dangerous thing. The correspondent further states: "The spread between the bid and asked price, in some cases as much as 8½%, compares favorably with commissions and other costs in purchasing and selling individual stocks on the big board."

The fact is that, if big board stocks are purchased in round lots — 100 share units — the cost is much less than 8½%— in some instances around ¾ of one per cent.

The inquirer writes further: "One seldom gets something for nothing. Do the 'no load' funds disguise in some manner the elimination of their 'no sales charge'?"

For the most part, the "no load" funds are operated as a sideline by investment counsel firms. As in the case of the load funds, the investment managers are compensated annually by a fee for managing the portfolio. The "no load" funds don't give something for nothing, since they don't send out salesmen to ring doorbells. It is expensive to rouse the unaware from their lethargy and to teach them the wisdom of thrift. In the aggregate, such salesmen are worthy of their hire. Without them there would not have been enough self starters to create a people's capitalism. The investor in "no load" funds must—on his own initiative—contact the sponsoring firm.

Differ Wiwedly

There is a misconception in assuming that all load funds and no load funds behave uniformly. They differ widely in performance, and the determining factor is the judgment and aggressiveness of the investment managers — not the load.

Q.—A Torrance, Calif. reader, who intends to settle in western or southern Europe, asks about the pros and cons of foreign investment.

A.—If Europe becomes your home, European securities will not be foreign investment. Generalized comment is of little avail. Selectivity is crucial. If you lack the knowledge, you could buy one of the funds specializing in European investments such as Eurofund and American European Securities Co. If you invest abroad before moving, watch out for double taxation.

(Mr. Rukeyser will be pleased to receive inquiries from readers concerning their financial problems. Letters with stamped self-addressed envelopes should be sent in care of The Lincoln Star. Questions of general interest will be answered in the column. Others, to the extent time permits, will be handled by mail.)

Trash Fire Burns Fatal For Iowan, 78

Omaha (AP) — George F. Jones, 78, of Missouri Valley, Iowa, has died of burns in an Omaha hospital. Jones was burned over most of his body while burning trash at his home Tuesday and died the following day.

G.I. Firm Bids Low

Denver (UPI)—Platte Valley Construction Co. of Grand Island, Neb., was the apparent low bidder Thursday for grading and other work on 15 miles of Interstate 80s between Crook and Sedgwick in northeastern Colorado. The Platte Valley bid was $1,970,016.

Major Change In Catholic Mass Touches Off Pro And Con Stands

New York (AP)—Already reverberating with change, Roman Catholic worship this weekend undergoes another major alteration, touching off both acclamation and some dissent.

The new step puts the central portion of the Mass—recalling Christ's Last Supper—into English.

This removes almost the last trace of Latin from the service, most of the rest of it previously having been put into the vernacular.

Seen As Contrary

"We feel that the complete elimination of Latin is contrary to the Vatican Council's constitution on the liturgy," said John McManemin, a New York layman, president of the newly organized Una Voce in the United States.

It is to press for retention of supplementary Masses in Latin — at least one daily in each of the nation's 18,000 Catholic parishes.

The changeover to English in the canon of the Mass, including the words of Christ instituting the Eucharist or Lord's Supper, was made mandatory by American bishops, beginning this Sunday, for the country's 47 million Catholics.

Numerous churchmen applauded the transition

'Revolutionary Change'

The Rev. Thomas Ambrogi, a Jesuit of Woodstock College, Md., said, "Just the fact of hearing the words of institution is going to make a revolutionary change in the consciousness of Catholics about what the Mass is."

The change is part of a succession of steps to spur more congregational participation in Catholic worship through singing, responses and other means, as urged by the Vatican Council.

This has transformed the atmosphere of the old-style quiet Masses, articulated mostly by priest and choir. It also has cut down on use of rosary beads and other private devotions that used to occupy many Catholics during communal worship.

Canon Of Mass To Be In English Effective Sunday

The canon of the Mass will be said in English in Lincoln Catholic congregations beginning Sunday, according to the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Thomas M. Kealy, the vicar general of the Lincoln Diocese.

The changeover to English was made mandatory by American bishops, effective Sunday, for the country's 47 million Catholics.

Msgr. Kealy indicated that up until this time, Bible readings have been in English. He said that now the "principal part of the Mass," the canon, will be in English also, removing the last trace of Latin from the services.

The canon includes the words of Christ's institution of the Lord's Supper.

STEEL DRIVER STRIKE SHUTS MAJOR PLANT

Pittsburgh (AP)—A violent and costly strike of steel truck drivers forced a steel company Thursday to order a shutdown of its major plant and the furloughing of 900 to 1,000 workers.

The Washington, Pa., plant of the Jessop Steel Co. is the first big mill in the country to completely halt production because of the strike by 10,000 independent drivers.

Huge Diamond Makes A Poor African Rich

© New York Times Service

New York—A huge diamond, turned up in a "pick-and-shovel operation" on a tiny mining stake in the African kingdom of Lesotho and ranked as the seventh largest gem diamond known, has been acquired by Harry Winston Inc. of New York City.

The rough stone has already made a poor man rich. It was found May 26 by Mrs. Ernestine Ramoboa while she was routinely sifting surface gravel on a claim about 20 feet square at Letseng-La-Draai.

Mrs. Ramoboa is the daughter-in-law of Petrus Ramoboa, a 38-year-old native of Lesotho and the principal shareholder in a claim shared by three other men.

The discovery brought a radical change in the life of Ramoboa, who received half the initial purchase price of $302,400. His cash holdings prior to the sale amounted to $4. He immediately bought a suit, three frying pans and two new wives.

Ramoboa could not even afford the $19.50 air fare from his home to the diamond buyer's offices in Maseru, Lesotho's capital. Clutching his treasure, he made a tortuous journey over 110 miles of dirt roads and tracks by hitchhiking. He still lives in a thatched hut and has announced that the feels "too young to retire."

The stone, tentatively known as the Lesotho Diamond, is larger than a golf ball but smaller than an egg. It weighs 601 carats and is pale brown in color. That ranks it in size just below the famous Jubilee Diamond, a 650-carat stone found in the Jagersfontein mine in South Africa in 1895.

The daimond was shown briefly Thursday in Geneva. It will be discreetly sent by registered mail from the Winston office there to the New York office, probably in the next two weeks.

States Take Minimum Pay Test To Top

Washington (AP) — Maryland and Texas brought to the Supreme Court Thursday an important test suit challenging extension of federal minimum wage and hour standards to about 1.7 million state employes.

Speaking also for 26 other states — Nebraska among them—the Maryland and Texas attorneys general asserted Congress exceeded its constitutional power when it extended the federal wage law to cover teachers, hospital staffs and other state workers.

They asked the court to decide whether the action, in amendments last year to the federal minimum wage and hour law, is constitutional.

"The power to regulate commerce may also involve the power to destroy, and it, like other granted powers, may not be misapplied to destroy the political integrity of the states," said Maryland Atty. Gen. Francis B. Burch and Texas Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin.

The states appealed from a 2-1 ruling by a special federal court in Baltimore June 13 that extension of minimum wage coverage to workers in public schools, hospitals and other state institutions is valid.

Virus Control May Conquer Most Cancer

Washington (AP)—Most cancer in humans may be caused by viruses which can be controlled, a federal research official said Thursday.

Dr. Robert J. Huebner, head of viral research at the National Institute of Allergy and Infectious Diseases, said at a news briefing that scientists now know viruses cause tumors in certain animals.

The next step, just beginning, he said, is to determine whether the same is true in humans. He said there are strong indications it is.

And if so, he said, "it will be a very hopeful thing . . . because this is something we can do something about. These are the ways we've controlled most diseases to date."

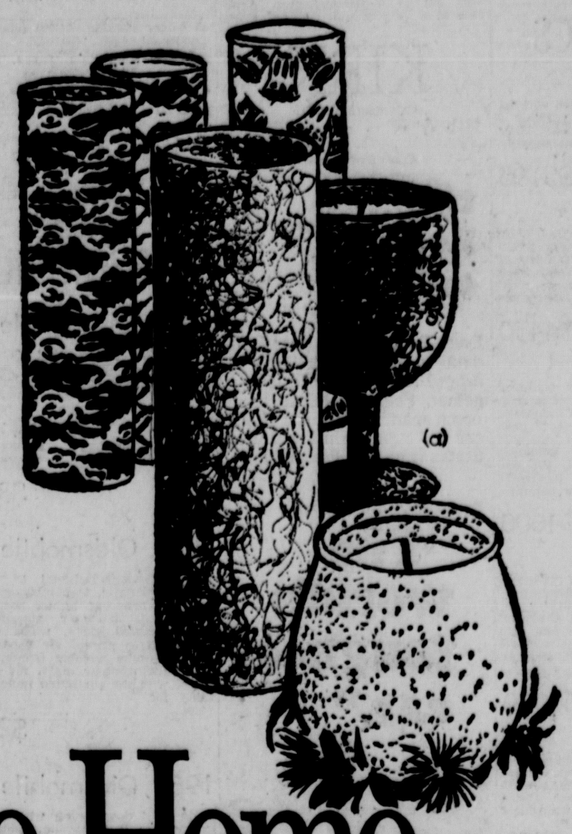
No Cities Selected

Washington (UPI) — The Department of Housing and Urban Development said it had not selected any areas for its model cities planning grant.

The excitement of Christmas is beginning... Our Toyland and Trim the Home shops are now open!

1 HOUR FREE PARKING WITH ANY PURCHASE



Toyland is open! Come in and see our Christmas Toyland, where you'll find the latest from Santa's North Pole workshop. See "Baby Hungry," the doll who chews her food; "Charlie & Me," a robot who will play with you! Come in Saturday and see them for yourself! Start filling Santa's pack!

(a) While 100 last! 24" walking doll. Unbreakable vinyl body, rooted hair, sleeping eyes. She'll walk right into your heart! 3.99

(b) Battery operated "Melody Train" plays 15 different tunes. A highly educational toy for children. Color chart helps choose a tune 5.99

Make this Christmas a Christmas to remember with Yuletide decorations from our Trim the Home Shop. A little advance planning can make your home a seasonal showcase, with exotic baubles and bangles for the tree; lights to wink, blink and nod in your windows; and candles in all shapes, to glow with holiday warmth and hospitality. Come in to our Trim the Home shop for all your Christmas tinsel and trimmings. We even have musical decorations that play cheery Yule tunes. Plan your December decor now while the selection of merchandise is at its merriest. Gold's Trim the Home Shop fourth floor.

(Visit our Trim the Home Shop fourth floor.) We're now open for business and we invite you to come in and see our wonderful collection of Christmas trimmings, including a grand assortment of decorations imported from Europe.
